Denies Methodist Board Is Lobby Organization

FACTS GIVEN COMMITTEE BY SPEAKER

Pickett Tells Senate Lobby Group Board Doesn't Aid Methodist Office Seekers

TALKS FOR DR. WILSON Solons Deny Pickett Right To Read Statement of More Than 2000 Words

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—Denial that the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals is the gigantic lobbying organization its critics had pictured it, was made before the senate lobby committee today by Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board.

"It does not attempt to support Methodists for office," said Pickett.

Location of the headquarters across the plaza from the capitol was merely incidental, Pickett added.

"Our principal reason in moving our office here was to be near the congressional library—not congress," he explained. "We are interested in educating our people and submit our facts to senators and representatives."

"Do you collect facts about stocks?" asked Chairman Caraway, without mentioning the name of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., who is to be questioned June 3 concerning his stock speculations.

"We don't know much about that," Pickett replied, adding the board was interested in preventing gambling.

Pickett, who appeared in place of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, now debating prohibition out of town, brought a 2000-word statement which the committee would not let him read.

On this document, he argued the board was entirely within its rights in petitioning congress for legislation. He denied its activities during the 1928 presidential campaign made it liable for violation of the corrupt practices act.

"What did you do in the 1928 presidential campaign?" asked Chairman Caraway.

"We opposed Governor Smith on the prohibition issue alone."

"Well, don't you call that a political activity? How did you oppose him?"

Jones Advises Liquor Vote In Washington

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—Declaring he will vote for repeal or modification of the 18th amendment if the people of his state ask for it, Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, asserted in a statement today that the Washington State Republican convention, which voted wet, represents but a small fraction of the state.

Jones, author of the "five and ten" dry law and one of the leading drys in the senate, suggested a state referendum to "Give people the chance to express themselves on a provision looming to legalize the sale of liquor."

SEATTLE WETS SEEK TO SCORE ON DRY AGENTS

SEATTLE, May 27.—(UP)—The wets of Washington today sought new adherents to their cause as they endeavored to capitalize on the indictment of three prohibition officials and an ex-dry agent by federal grand jury that investigated charges of bribery and corruption in the Pacific northwest prohibition unit.

The indictments were issued late Monday—less than 48 hours after the Republican state convention at Bellingham adopted a plank calling for modification of existing liquor laws.

Roy C. Lyle, United States prohibition administrator for Oregon, Washington and Alaska, was named in one indictment. His chief assistant and legal advisor—William M. Whitney—was named in another. Both were arrested but released later on their own recognizance.

Earl Corwin, former head of the northwest prohibition field force, and Richard L. Bryant, ex-dry agent, now a deputy sheriff, also were indicted by the jury after an exhaustive investigation during the past 10 days. Corwin recently was transferred to the Honolulu division after charges of assault were placed against him by asserted bootleggers.

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—(UP)—Trial of the $20,000,000 suit of Frank H. Kunkel and other stockholders of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company against E. L. Doheny, oil millionaire and the company, was continued today until June 10 by agreement of attorneys and with the consent of Federal Judge Consavage.

The delay, the second in the starting of the trial, renewed rumors that a settlement was being attempted out of court. Kunkel and the other claimants they lost $20,000,000 through allegedly fraudulent claims of Doheny as president of the company.

Kingsford-Smith Starts Flight To New York In June

DUBLIN, May 27.—(UP)—The first definite date for an attempted westward crossing of the Atlantic ocean by airplane this season was announced here by Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith, pilot of the airplane Southern Cross on its California to Australia flight.

Captain Kingsford-Smith said he planned to leave from Curragh, County Kildare, near the end of June with New York as his destination. He will follow a more southerly route than that used by the late Baron Von Huenfeld and his companions in the German airplane Bremen.

Captain Kingsford-Smith said he planned to fly from New York to San Francisco, thereby completing the last lap of a round the world flight. Three companions will accompany Captain Kingsford-Smith. They are Capt. J. P. Saul, of the Royal Air Force, a native of Dublin, a master mariner, Assistant Pilot Van Dyk, of Holland, and Radio Operator Stannage.

HOOVER SIGNS TRANSFER BILL ON PROHIBITION

Enforcement Will Pass to Department of Justice On First of July

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—The first of the reform measures recommended by the Wickham Law Enforcement commission came a law today, when President Hoover signed the Williamson bill transferring prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department.

The transfer becomes effective July 1, when Attorney General Mitchell will take over the burden of enforcement which has been in the hands of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon since 1921.

At the same time the president signed seven other bills providing a comprehensive program of prison reform which are designed to meet the congested prison situation and other objectionable features of prison management or equipment.

Mr. Hoover said the bills would enable the government to work out a more satisfactory federal prison system than at present and would bring into action needed physical changes as well as important moral forces.

TARIFF BILL HIT BY NEW OBSTACLE

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—The tariff bill ran into another obstacle in the senate today when Vice President Curtis ordered it sent back to conference with the house, ruling that conferees had exceeded their authority in rewriting the controversial flexible provisions.

This means house and senate conferees must get together again and work out a flexible provision that will be satisfactory. It creates another deadlock similar to those which the measure has encountered during the last few weeks. The flexible provision deals with the powers of the tariff commission in raising or lowering rates.

Curtis' ruling, wholly unexpected by Republican leaders, upheld a point of order by Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky.

TRIPS LONG TRIP IN CUTTER

LISBON, May 27.—(UP)—Antonio Gomes Viegas, a Portuguese, 56 years old, presumably was somewhere in the Atlantic today, attempting to reach Brazil alone, in the cutter "Portugal," 26 feet in length and a five-foot draft.

Viegas departed May 3 from the port of Sao Martinho Do Porto, 43 miles north of Lisbon, and hoped to reach some port in Brazil within 35 or 45 days after his departure. May 3 was the date of the discovery of Brazil by Pedro Alvares Cabral.

'Lie' Hurlled At Deputy By Lewis Today

Bailiffs Prevent Combat Between Him and Costello

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—(UP)—A scene of wild confusion occurred today in the superior courtroom when S. C. Lewis, former Julian Petroleum president, is on trial on charges of attempting to bribe a juror in one of the early conspiracy cases resulting from the collapse of the oil company.

After Lewis and Deputy District Attorney James P. Costello had hurled heated remarks at each other, bailiffs and court attaches took action to prevent possible physical combat between the two men.

The disturbance started when Costello assertedly made an undertone remark to Lewis to the effect that the promoter "was willing to buy his liberty instead of getting it through immunity."

Lewis was heard to reply in a somewhat louder tone "That's a damn lie."

At this point Deputy Costello leaped to his feet, whirled around another deputy who was between him and Lewis and appeared about to launch an attack on the promoter.

William Dawson, a bailiff, jumped between Costello and Lewis before they could clash.

As spectators milled excitedly behind the guard rail the judge pounded for order and hastily commanded bailiffs to take the jury to another room.

Acting as his own attorney, Lewis said: "This man Costello deliberately and with malice read into this record yesterday the statement that I was too proud to take immunity."

"The jury still was in the box when Lewis made this reference to Jack Bennett, alias Jacob Berman, his one-time associate. Berman now is a state witness and a prisoner at McNeil's island on a mail fraud conviction on which he and Lewis were convicted together."

Lewis was taken from the federal prison to face his present state trial.

After the disturbance subsided, Judge McLucas ordered the court stenographer to make the records read:

HEALTH EXPERT ALARMED OVER INFANT MALADY

Reports Alarming Increase Of Paralysis in State

SACRAMENTO, May 27.—(UP)—With 27 new cases reported during the first two weeks of May, the increase of infantile paralysis in California has reached an alarming stage.

This was the report of Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of public health, at the May meeting of Governor Young's executive council, which convened here this afternoon.

"Most of the new cases have occurred in the southern part of the state, in contrast to the geographical distribution of this disease during recent years when more cases were reported in the north," said Dr. Dickie.

"The appearance of a widespread outbreak of the disease, this year cannot be predicted definitely, but it is true, nevertheless, that there is always a pronounced increase in the prevalence of infantile paralysis in April and May of those years in which the disease rises to epidemic proportions during the late summer months."

"Because the turnover of population in the southern part of the state is more extensive," Dr. Dickie concluded, "the increased incidence of epidemic poliomyelitis in Southern California at the present time may be regarded with some degree of apprehension."

California now has 11,385 registered physicians and surgeons, it was reported by James F. Collins, director of professional and vocational standards. Of 56 in-law investigations of violation of the law and unethical practices, 27 prosecutions were completed in the courts during the month, he said.

Collins laid particular stress on the decision rendered in April by Superior Judge Samuel Black, of Los Angeles, in the case of the People vs. the Medical Service corporation.

"The ruling deeply affects not only the state board of medical examiners in the regulation of the medical profession, but the state board of dental examiners in the regulation of dentistry as well," he said.

"The decision in effect decreed that a corporation cannot practice medicine and was based on proceedings brought by Attorney General Webb to cancel the franchise of the Medical Service corporation on the ground that it was engaging in business in which the law forbids a corporation to participate."

Johnson Predicts Victory For Japan Immigration Plan

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee, said today that his plan advanced last week of placing Japanese immigration on a proportionate quota basis has met widespread approval and predicted the proposal would encounter but little opposition in congress.

Police Fire Into Mob To Quell Attack

Lancashire Troops Called in As Mob Refuses to Disperse

BY WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent) (World Copyright, 1930, by U. P.) BOMBAY, India, May 27.—Police clashed repeatedly with Moslems today in outbreaks of violence in the central Bhandi Bazaar here and at the Sandhurst barracks. Guns were fired into the mob on several occasions and the rioters attacked police with stones.

Casualties were placed at six dead and 45 wounded by gun fire in a statement by Red Cross volunteers of the Indian congress. A dozen others were less seriously wounded. About a dozen native police and several British officers were injured.

The total casualties in the independence fighting throughout India in the last two days was raised to at least 54 dead, and hundreds injured.

A partial halt, (cessation of work) was called in Bombay with Hindus and independence volunteers joining in. The situation remained dangerous at mid-afternoon, when another huge crowd of demonstrators gathered at the Sandhurst barracks and shouted threats at the police. A mass meeting was started at 6 p. m. at the Esplanade Maidan, scene of many recent demonstrations.

Any person wearing European dress was in danger and the son of Dr. Burns, resident physician at the J. J. Hospital, was attacked, and his car demolished. Congress volunteers rescued him.

Police resorted to the buckshot volley after four shots were fired into the air as a warning to the mob to retreat. The shots had no effect whatever on the Mohammedans.

Mohammedan leaders arrived immediately after the shooting and attempted to pacify the mob.

Today's rioting in Bhandi, in the central part of Bombay, was a renewal of serious attacks by Mohammedans on British native police which began last night. Three members of the mob were killed in last night's fighting, and 39 others injured, while at least a dozen police were injured.

Four platoons of East Lancashire troops, called early today, were reinforced during the forenoon and were concentrated in three police stations in the district and patrolled in motor trucks.

With Carleton Kechum, of the London Daily Express, I witnessed the renewed outbreaks at 9:15 a. m., at the Sandhurst road police barracks. We were the only correspondents present and when we arrived an angry mob of Mohammedans in front of the barracks was pressing close to the police, yelling and cursing.

ENGLISH KING NOT TO ATTEND ROYAL COURTS

Physicians Prescribe Rest After Attacks of Rheumatism

LONDON, May 27.—(UP)—King George has been suffering from an attack of rheumatism in the right hip for the past several days. It was announced officially at Buckingham palace today. As a result of the rheumatism, the king has cancelled his attendance at the third and fourth Royal courts to be held tonight and tomorrow.

The affection was painful, it was said, but it was understood that it had no connection with the serious illness which kept him confined to his bed for many weeks last year.

The official announcement at Buckingham palace said: "For some days past the king has been suffering from a painful though localized rheumatism in his right hip. His Majesty has been advised not to be present at the courts tonight and tomorrow night, but hopes to be able to fulfill his engagements later this week."

King George was believed by his physicians to have recovered completely from the illness which threatened his life in the early winter of 1928-29, but only recently was he permitted to return to official duties. He will be 65 years old on June 3.

Hundreds of debutantes were disappointed today when it was learned the king would not be present at the courts tonight and tomorrow night.

"There is nothing to worry about," a spokesman at the palace told the United Press. "The king is up and about and received General Sir William Peyton on morning in connection with the Scottish military appointment. The illness is only a slight one."

Turner Lands At Wichita Over One Hour Behind Time

WICHITA, Kans., May 27.—(UP)—Lieut. Colonel Roscoe Turner and his lion cub mascot, landed here at 12:44 p. m. today to refuel for their east-west transcontinental flight from New York to Los Angeles.

Turner was approximately 1 hour and 45 minutes behind the time he had estimated it would take him to reach Wichita, his only stop.

Many Lose Lives Trying To Save Cars Stored In Annex to Blazing Arena

EMBERS FALL ON CROWD Estimate Loss at $300,000 In Worst Fire of City's History as Stock Center

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 27.—(UP)—Flames that started near a sawdust covered arena cracked through the stockyards coliseum today and took at least 10 lives.

Most of the persons who lost their lives were caught in a shower of embers and burning brands as the walls of the huge structure, weakened by the inroad of the flames, collapsed.

Twelve other persons were reported to have been injured. The walls and roof of the big arena, which had been the scene of many bitter political battles, collapsed.

The deaths and injuries resulted from the battle of firemen to control the fierce flames in a crowd which pressed forward, attracted to the spectacle.

Walls buckled, then fell, some catching human groups, while firemen struggled to hold the flames in check from threatened backing plants nearby, which made up "Packingtown." In other instances persons were trapped who sought to salvage parts from automobiles stored in the annex of the structure.

J. E. Brown, a stockman, reported he saw a wall fall on 10 men, at least one of whom was killed.

Four men, with chests crushed, were dragged from the ruins as firemen searched the piles of debris for other possible victims.

Dick Mason, a fireman, was burned to death when falling debris caught him.

A boy, not identified, was said to have died in the flames while helping A. F. Johnson, a railroad employe, to salvage an automobile. Johnson said a collapsing wall crushed the youth.

Although Fire Chief George Goff had made no estimates, it was reported that the large building was a complete loss. Loss was expected to reach more than $300,000. The building was built in 1920. It was a joint civic and industrial project. The building is located on the edge of the Oklahoma City stock yards, it has been kept up by en-

STAGE STAR OWES GOVERNMENT $3582

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—(UP)—Bert Lytell, stage and screen actor, was listed as owing the government $3582.38 in unpaid income tax today after his plea of guilt to evasion on returns for the year of 1925.

Government agents testified in federal court that Lytell paid $1381.91 instead of $4864.24. The actor explained the difficulty was due to the fact that he placed his tax problems in the hands of Miss Marjorie Berger, now serving a 30 months federal sentence for defrauding the government in making out returns for other Hollywood prominent.

Sentence of Lytell was deferred until next October.

World Record for Loops Claimed By St. Louis Aviatrix

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 27.—(UP)—A new world's record for successive loops by a woman flyer, almost tripling the former mark, was claimed here today by Laura Ingalls, girl flyer of St. Louis.

Through the gathering darkness at Hattox field, Miss Ingalls brought her plane to the ground last night after looping 880 consecutive times, bettering her former record by 436 loops.

"I would have made a thousand loops easily if it hadn't been for the darkness," she said. "I'll pass that mark yet."

POLICE FIRE INTO MOB TO QUELLOUT ATTACK

Brown, of Leeds, who was injured in the head with stones during the night, the crowd started showering stones into the entrance. We ran into the barracks, and the police opened a sporadic fire lasting during several minutes. I gained a vantage spot at a window and saw a mob of several hundred scatter in utmost confusion, shrieking. I saw several of the mob tumble in the streets, but whether they were wounded or fell, it was impossible to ascertain owing to the confusion. The troops in the barracks rushed hastily downstairs into the streets and deployed before the building. The street was splashed with blood, but it was not known whether from Mohammedans or police. Deputy Inspector Hart, was standing in the street bleeding profusely from a wound in his arm. His white uniform, and those of other British sergeants were covered with bloodstains.

After the firing had ceased, the mob congregated one or two hundred yards away in the streets converging towards the barracks, and slowly began to approach again. There followed a volley of stones, apparently hurled from the roofs of buildings opposite the barracks, like a wartime barrage.

Twice Ketchum and I started to leave the barracks, but each time the stones drove us back. The police advised us to stay until troops started their patrol.

Finally at 10:15 o'clock, we succeeded in getting away. The situation was ugly. Street cars, which had resumed operations, were passing the barracks, and we saw a number of passengers ostentatiously and contemptuously spit towards the troops and the police.

While we were besieged in the barracks, two Eurasian girls rushed into the station crying that Mohammedans had stoned their automobile. Also the British wife of one of the injured sergeants came, weeping, and leading a small child.

Most of the windows of the barracks were smashed during the night. The street in front of the building was literally covered with large stones. The entrance hall was in the same condition.

During the night, members of the mob poured kerosene on wooden parts of the barracks, and tried to burn the building, but the fire was extinguished quickly. Then they spread tar being used in repairing the streets on adjoining buildings and tried to burn them, in an effort to dislodge police from their barracks.

British police present during the night said a large number of shots were fired in the darkness, and it was impossible to ascertain the number hit.

It was estimated that the mob during the night numbered several thousand.

While we were still besieged within the barracks, a national congress ambulance arrived to gather the wounded who had been hit during the firing we were then witnessing.

WILLARD 8-GRADERS WIN FROM LATHROP

By ARNOLD VOUEL

Coach Arnold Lund's Frances E. Willard junior high school eighth grade baseball team defeated Coach Ferris Scott's Julia C. Lathrop eighth grade baseball team yesterday afternoon at Lathrop. The score was 7 to 2, in favor of the Indians.

The Spartans couldn't hit the Indians pitcher at all. They only got three hits. Estrada, Willard's pitcher, struck out 13.

This is the first of the two out of three eighth grade series which will be played. The seventh grades are in a tie, each having won one game. The varsity baseball teams of the two junior high schools will meet for their first game Wednesday of this week at Lincoln field.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, May 27.—John Pryor was one of the two representatives of the Huntington Beach high school taking part in the meet held by high schools in Santa Ana Saturday.

E. R. Bradbury, Joe Sork, L. E. Barry and J. O. Pryor acted as pall bearers at the funeral of Dr. G. A. Shank, of Huntington Beach, when Masons took charge of the service.

A group of 100 women, members of the Ladies Aid societies of Costa Mesa and Wintersburg, spent a delightful day together at the Wintersburg church hall. A pot luck dinner was served and Mrs. Irene Renfro, of Huntington Beach, presided over two vocal numbers during the dinner hour after which the play "Not a Man in the House" was presented by the local group.

Following the play adjournment was made to the church where Mrs. C. E. Pratt took charge of the program, a devotional service featured as a radio broadcast. Characters of the play represented "static," "good reception" and various other terms familiar in radio and music were introduced in between features.

The regular business meeting completed the program of the day. Mrs. Blancha Baisell, of Los Angeles, was made president, Mrs. Nell Parr, vice president; Mrs. India McDaniel, secretary; Mrs. May Mansperger, treasurer, and Mrs. Nell Morgan, door keeper.

Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Morgan are to be the next hostesses with the meeting to be held at the hall.

ASSESSOR NOT PERMITTED TO EMPLOY HELP

An opinion submitted today by District Attorney Z. B. West to the county board of supervisors held that the appointment of additional assessors or any help for the assessor's office, no matter how badly needed was unconstitutional. This closed the gates to any action by the board in response to the request made on May 6 by Assessor James Sleeper for additional funds to employ men to make a reappraisal of property in the county.

Sleeper had made the request of the board to enable his office to handle a survey and reappraisal of property in response to recent agitation for such procedure following the recommendation of the grand jury that this be done. An attempt was previously made by two members of the board of supervisors, William Schumacher and John Mitchell, to have a survey made by a board to be appointed by the supervisors, but it was defeated by the vote of the other three members of the board, Willard Smith, George Jeffrey and Charles Chapman.

West based his opinion on the clause in the state constitution which provides "the compensation of any . . . county officer shall not be increased after election or during the term of office." He also cited several cases on the question which had been before the courts, in one of which it was held that even additional copyists could not be paid if the amount exceeded that allowed by the legislature in the county government act for remuneration of the office of assessor. In the opinion the district attorney pointed out that additional deputies may be provided by the state legislature.

The report of the appraisal committee appointed by the supervisors for setting a valuation on the tract of land proposed as the site for a state park on the beach between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach, was not submitted today, as had been previously anticipated. Members of the board stated that the appraisal had been made but that the report would not be filed until the appraisal of the state park board had been made and the two bodies had met for a discussion of the value of the land under consideration. The state park board, it was pointed out, will not make an appraisal until after a suit has been filed with the state supreme court to determine whether or not a county may join with the state in the purchase of land and then deed the land to the state, is determined.

Warrants were approved by the board providing for compensation of the members of the appraisal committee at the rate of $12 per day. Four of the claims were presented today, three for $60 each, and one for $72.

Other action taken by the board during the morning session included acceptance of a petition for the formation of a water works district at Westminster and approval of a bond for $500 in connection with the proceedings in this regard. The petition, which was presented by Attorney Horace Head, was signed by 38 of the property owners of the district.

The board set the date for the hearing on the matter as June 24. The petition set forth that the district needed additional water for irrigation, domestic and fire protection purposes. It is proposed to acquire the two existing water systems now serving portions of the vicinity of Westminster, construct wells, a tower and storage tank, lay mains and set 10 fire hydrants. The cost is set up as $31,629.60.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland was authorized to attend the American Public Health association meeting in Salt Lake City on June 12 to 14 with expenses paid. A 40-day leave of absence from the state was granted to Charles D. Brown, coroner, who plans to attend the Shrine convention in Toronto.

BOARD TO MEET

Members of the Santa Ana board of education will meet at the administration offices tonight at 7:30 p. m. for the regular meeting of the board. Matters scheduled to come up for attention include consideration of plans for the junior high schools, selection of additional teachers and receipt of applications for the position of assistant superintendent of schools.

Engineers and inspectors have been held regularly, livestock officials said. None could offer any explanation of the fire, which started suddenly and swept the entire building within the period of an hour.

What was first a scene of curiosity for many turned into a spectacle involving one of the most serious losses of life since the oil and cattle business turned this former Indian territory settlement into a city.

The blaze occurred in a corner of the building near the opening of a large sawdust covered area where many a "wild west" rodeo has been staged, a preliminary report of firemen said. None knew the cause.

The usual number of workmen and equipment was in the building but large crowds gathered when a large billow of smoke rose from the center of the large structure. As the flames neared the annex, where 200 new automobiles were stored, volunteers rushed to save the cars.

It was at this place where a falling wall crashed down on firemen and volunteers, imprisoning many and killing several. When the flames swept the annex a series of minor explosions in the cars caused the flames to spread with renewed fury.

DAMAGE SUIT CASE TRIED BEFORE JURY

HEALTH OFFICER CLOSES SCHOOL IN PLACENTIA

Placentia schools were closed today by action of the school trustees following outbreak of two cases of infantile paralysis there over the week end and development of several suspected cases. Two other cases are reported in the county at this time according to Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, in Santa Ana and one in Orange.

In a statement issued today regarding the situation Dr. Sutherland stated that the fact that there were four cases now developed justified more concern than ordinary and suggested that all children exhibiting certain symptoms should be isolated for observation. The action in closing the Placentia schools followed the recommendation of Dr. Sutherland that this step be taken to prevent further exposure and spread of the contagion.

"The present outbreak of four cases of infantile paralysis justifies more concern than ordinary," Dr. Sutherland said today. "There are two cases in Placentia, one in Santa Ana and one in Orange. It is safe to say that for every developed case there possibly are some 18 or more carriers of the disease and the county would therefore be pretty well spotted."

"Every case of an unexplained temperature, especially with respiratory infection such as a seeming cold or sore throat, or gastro-intestinal upset, when combined with suspicion and isolated until it is determined that no symptoms of infantile paralysis develop."

Dr. Sutherland stated that the last case reported was five weeks ago at Orange.

The two cases in Placentia both developed in the Bradford avenue school. The patients are Rita Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Holtz, a second grade student, and Lois Brunemeler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Brunemeler, a student in the sixth grade. "The Holtz girl is being treated in the Orange county hospital."

Following closing of all schools in Placentia today, children there were advised to remain in their homes, not come in contact with other children or attend public meetings. Reports from Placentia state that there are 10 suspected cases under observation there.

Ends Piles Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that Schramm-Johnson invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.

GIRLS GUILTY OF THEFT HEAR FATE JUNE 3

Edna Allen and Nellie Didier, of 1428 Duncan street, Belvedere Gardens, were found guilty of petty theft in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning, in connection with the stealing of $10 worth of rhubarb. Time for the pronouncement of judgment was set for June 3.

The women were asserted to have been with Steve Constanty, of the same address on the night of May 16, when he stopped his car at the side of the road and robbed a patch nearby, at Buena Park.

Constanty pleaded guilty several days ago and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail. He was a witness in the case this morning. The women contended that two small children were hungry and that they had no money, this being given as an excuse for the theft which they claimed Constanty committed alone. They testified they did not leave the machine. Officers of the fruit patrol who made the arrest testified that the women also were in the field.

URGE GROWERS TO BEGIN PEST CONTROL HERE

A statement issued today by W. H. Wright, deputy agricultural commissioner for Orange county, called attention of walnut growers in the county to the fact that treatment for worm and aphid control should begin tomorrow. Two important reasons were advanced by the deputy commissioner for treatment of orchards this year. It also was pointed out in the statement that advantages of treating trees to control the pest include increases in the amount received for the nuts and reduction of labor costs in the packing houses.

The statement follows: "Treatment for worm and aphid control on walnuts should begin tomorrow. The agricultural office believes it very important that walnut growers treat their orchards this year for two reasons: first, because of the various sizes of walnuts, the worms have been able to enter some of the largest walnuts which were set early in the season, and will thus contribute to a heavy second brood which will come on about the middle of July, and second, with the light crop, the percentage of worms will be greater; also because of the smaller crop growers will need to get as large an amount of good quality walnuts as possible.

"The grower is interested in pest control only as it affects his pocket book. We find from last year's packing house records that on the basis of 15 1/2 cents per pound for soft shell and 20 1/2 cents per pound for buds that those growers who treated for worms and aphids had a 10 to 20 percent net profit. Then there was also a reduction on packing house costs of $3 1/3 per cent from reduced labor costs as it was unnecessary to hire so many graders to pick out wormy walnuts. Having fewer wormy walnuts the packing house managers reported that without exception they were able to run twice as many walnuts per hour through the house last year with half as much labor on the grading belt as is usually required. Because of speeded up operation it is possible to get a greater quantity of walnuts on the market at an early date. We know that walnuts on the market before Thanksgiving and Christmas are those most easily sold.

"For the years 1926 to 1928, the cost of spraying averaged 58.8 cents per tree. The average cost last year on 73,898 trees sprayed was 58 cents per tree as reported by commercial operators. The cost of combination dusting on 73,826 trees for the past four years has averaged 46c per tree and the cost of dusting for aphids 17c per tree on 75,346 trees, or in other words the cost of giving a spray for worm and aphid control plus a later dusting for aphids alone will amount to about 4 to 6 pounds of walnuts per tree.

"The recommendation for spraying this year will be the same as in the past four years: 15 pounds of basis arsenate of lead per 300 gallons of water, 3 pounds of spreader, and 1 pint of Black Leaf '40' to the above amount of water.

"Arsenate of lead is obtainable at the various packing houses and has been tested by the division of chemistry, state department of agriculture, and found satisfactory.

"Growers should also have their ground in condition and plan their irrigation so that it is not necessary to irrigate until the treatment for worms and aphids has been given.

"We have shown the advantage in spraying for worm control, also that the cost for spraying for worms and aphids and dusting for aphids in July or August when necessary averages 75c per tree. The grower receives an increase of from 2c to 4c per pound for his walnuts. There is a reduction in labor cost in the packing house, because wormy walnuts must be picked out by hand, a smaller percentage of culls, and an aid in putting the walnuts on the market at an earlier date. Continued treatment has eliminated worm damage and should be maintained as insurance. Because of these facts we not only advise walnut pest control where necessary, but believe growers with infested orchards cannot afford not to treat."

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

UNION OIL COMPANY GIVEN PERMIT TO BUILD STATION AT SEVENTEENTH, BROADWAY

The Union Oil company may proceed with its plans for the construction of a super-service station on the northwest corner of Broadway and Seventeenth streets—and virtually with the unanimous consent of the planning commission, the city council and property owners in the vicinity of the corner.

Following out recommendations of men Goode, Kelly and Sutton, of the commission, the council last night granted the oil company permission to erect the station. Action of the commission followed a public hearing in the council chambers in the afternoon. Anticipated fireworks by opponents to the program did not develop and the half dozen property owners in the vicinity who appeared at the meeting entered no serious objection to the station.

A drawing showing the set up of the station was presented and explained by R. Linden, assistant district manager here and only minor changes were made to make the plant conform to the wishes of some of the residents directly concerned.

Buildings to be erected will face on Seventeenth street. There will be an entrance to the station grounds from Broadway, but there will be no buildings facing on the street. A lawn will be planted on the north side of the lot. A six-foot lawn will run around the greater portion of the grounds. Oil pumps will be placed on an "island" and the station building will be of the tower type, providing an office for the station and room for lubricating containers. Ornamental trees will be placed throughout the grounds. A small building on the west end of the lot will be used as a retail store for tires, and wash and greasing racks will be built immediately to the rear of the store building. At the suggestion of residents, the racks will be enclosed instead of having open fronts.

No Street for Lights
Walnut street is sufficiently lighted in front of the high school grounds to offer full lighting of the street, according to a report submitted by Councilmen Kelly and Goode, who were appointed at the last meeting to investigate light and police conditions there at the request of D. K. Hammond, principal, who complained that articles are frequently stolen from automobiles parked there when entertainment programs are presented at the school. Chief of Police C. L. Rogers advised the council that it is his custom to send extra officers to the grounds when he knows that big meetings are to be held. He said that he is not always advised when entertainments are given.

Hammond addressed a communication to the council last night asking that Pine street, through the high school grounds, be made a one-way traffic street between Ross and Parton, with traffic direction west to east. The request was referred to a committee consisting of Council-

Election of Captain W. C. Fox, Santa Ana, to the presidency of the Orange County Firemen's association was a feature of the meeting of the association held last night at I. O. O. F. hall, Fullerton. Boyd Sleeper, who has been secretary-treasurer of the association for the past three years, was succeeded by Janvier Oscar Briscoe, Newport Beach. Sleeper declined re-election, declaring that he felt he had done his full duty by the association by serving as an officer for three years.

Walter Joyce, Laguna Beach, C. W. The Winkle, Costa Mesa, were elected first and second vice presidents respectively.

Petrif President Robeson inducted the new officers. He also submitted his annual report, in which he recounted some of the accomplishments of the association during the past year.

C. H. Gault, identified with the bureau of mines in Los Angeles, was the speaker of the evening. He outlined the development and use of gas masks since the war and gave demonstrations of the various types used by fire departments.

by ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

CHAPTER XII
"To the devil with that kid!" Strawn exclaimed disgustedly, when Dundee told how Gigi Berkeley had seized the perfume flask and gone dancing madly from one another in the drawing room the night before, lavishly sprinkling perfume upon dinner coats and evening gowns. "If your crazy Gigi and that damned perfume don't quit bobbing into this case I'll go nuts. Now I suppose all we've got to go on is blood stains—if any.... Would that woman have bled much, Doc?" He turned to the coroner hopefully.

"Very little," Dr. Price answered. "There wouldn't have been any spilling of blood, if that's what you mean. Not from a scalp wound like that. As you can see from the remains of the stain—and he pointed to the brownish spot on the floor—"there was a small pool of blood, which collected while the body lay there, during the time the murderer was gathering the stones and binding the skirt. But I should say it is entirely possible that the murderer got none on his clothes. Probably the wound and the hair was swabbed off with the same cloth used to wipe up the floor."

"Damn!" Strawn growled. Then he brightened. "Shoes! I don't suppose that little pest, Gigi, anointed everyone's shoes, as well as dinner coats and evening gowns, did she? Well, then, if I can find a pair of shoes stinking with this stuff, their owner's going to have a lot of explaining to do!" "Of course, there is a bare possibility that the murderer was an outsider—some intruder who found the girl waiting here for her sweetheart, not knowing he couldn't meet her," Dundee offered dubiously. "Any evidence of an attack upon the girl, Dr. Price?"

"None whatever," the coroner answered. "As I expected," Dundee nodded. "We couldn't hope this case would be as simple as that. Furthermore, a chance intruder would scarcely have taken the time and the trouble to dispose of the body. He would simply have beat it as quickly as possible, fairly sure of many hours to escape before the hue and cry was raised. And still furthermore, such an explanation would entirely fail to account for the perfume.... No, it seems to me that it's fairly obvious our murderer is a member of the Berkeley household, which includes all servants and guests, of course.... By the way, where is Crosby?"

"I sent him to the house, along with two of the boys—Wilkins and Cain. Wilkins was to stand guard downstairs, to keep anyone from busting in on us down here, and Cain was to watch Crosby. 'Here, boys!' he called to the three plainclothesmen and a uniformed policeman who still awaited orders. 'Which one of you can swim?'"

The man in uniform stepped forward and saluted.

"All right, Collins. Come along with us. Detective Dundee will lend you his bathing suit. I want you to bring up a pile of five stones you'll find on the bottom of the lake about five or six feet from this summerhouse, and then dive until you find a little white apron tied about some broken glass.... You can remove the body now, Dr. Price. I see the morgue ambulance has come.... And let me have your report as soon as possible, Caraway," he added to the fingerprint expert. "Be sure to include the fingerprints of the corpse, too."

The chief of the homicide squad hesitated for a moment, frowningly rubbing the grayish stubble on his massive jaw. Then: "Barnes, you and Peters are detailed to go over this section of the lawn and the lake's edge with a fine tooth comb. Bring in anything and everything you find that shows people have been here—cigar or cigarette stubs, burnt matches, handkerchiefs, and so on.... You, Clemmons," he addressed the only remaining plainclothesman, "come along to the house with us."

Strawn, Dundee, Collins and Clemmons were setting off for the big stone mansion when a hallo stopped them. It was Detective Payne, followed at some distance by the two men he had chosen to help him search for Dick Berkeley.

"Sorry, Chief!" he panted. "But no luck. We've been through every building on the estate, except the big house itself, and beat the shrubbery till a rabbit couldn't have escaped us."

Strawn frowned and shrugged. "Guess he's got away, all right, but he'll be a marked man, unless he's managed to change his clothes. See anybody at all?"

"A dead old man who said he was the gardener, and a boy of 17 or 18 who was helping him in the far east corner of the estate," Payne answered. "The boy told me they both live in town, and come to work at eight o'clock."

"All right! Come along!" Strawn growled. And the cortege was augmented by three somewhat disheveled and sweating detectives.

The chief halted it again, however, on the steps leading to the front veranda.

"Dundee," he ordered, "you bolt into the house and get your bathing suit for Collins. I'm going to study the lay of things from the outside a bit—get an idea of the plan of the house; that sort of thing," he explained lamely, and Dundee's heart swelled with gratitude. The "old man" wanted him by his side when the storm broke inside, wanted him to hear every word that was said, see the expression on every face when the hideous news was told.

Wickett, the butler, looking haggard and harassed, opened the big front door for him and Collins.

"Everyone—that is, everyone but Mr. Dick and Mrs. Berkeley, sir—is in what we call the 'little parlor,' sir, the first room on your right," he said in low voice. "The other servants are in our own sitting room backstairs, sir. As I was instructed, sir, I have not given out any facts at all, but I am afraid Miss Gigi has told her father—"

"Mr. Crosby with them?" Dundee asked.

"Yes, sir. But I don't believe he has amplified Miss Gigi's statement that the poor little girl committed suicide. One of the detectives is with them."

"Thanks, Wickett! You've been a brick," the young detective whispered fervently, and ran upstairs, followed more sedately by the uniformed policeman.

When they returned, Dundee saw the butler's tired old eyes widen with dismay or horror at sight of the scanty new costume which Collins was wearing.

"Please, sir, you don't think Mr. Dick—?"

"We haven't found him yet," Dundee answered, pretending not to understand. But he was startled. Odd that the butler was the first to hit upon the idea that Dick Berkeley's disappearance might be explained as gruesomely as Doris Matthews'. Murder followed by suicide?

So it was that when Collins struck off for the lake, he was under orders to search it thoroughly, first for something much heavier than a little pile of stones or a small apron filled with bits of broken glass.

In the great front hall, Wickett quietly insisted upon the proper amenities. Preceding the invading group, he opened the door of the "little parlor" and addressed Mr. Berkeley punctiliously:

"Captain Strawn of the police, sir."

Dundee, flushing in anticipation of the awkward explanation as to his own interest in the case, was at his chief's side when Strawn entered the room.

In the quivering silence which gripped the room George Berkeley advanced and held out his hand.

"I have been told something of what has happened here, Captain Strawn," he said, with grave courtesy, "and of course I am at your disposal, though I am afraid I know very little about police methods where suicide is concerned."

"Mr. Berkeley," Strawn answered, a little pompously, "I'm very sorry to tell you that it is not suicide with which we have to deal, but—murder!"

The next minute was one of dreadful confusion. Dundee tried to see everything, hear everything, but his ears were ringing with Gigi's scream, his eyes clung passionately to the terror-stricken little face until it buried itself in Mrs. Lambert's lap.

"Don't, my darling, don't!" the social secretary pleaded, her arms enfolding the child protectingly. Then she raised her silver-crowned head and looked reproachfully at Captain Strawn.

"Please remember, sir, that this child has already suffered a terrible shock," she commanded.

"Sorry, ma'am, but this is no time to mince words," Strawn replied gruffly. "Doris Matthews has been murdered, and it is by duty to question every person who was in this house last night. But before the investigation gets under way I'll say to you, sir, and he turned again to George Berkeley, "that you and me both can consider ourselves lucky that Mr. Dundee happens to be on the scene of the crime."

There was a slight movement of surprise on the part of everyone in the room. Clorinda Berkeley gasped, then threw up her head, her black eyes measuring Bonnie Dundee with cool insolence. Seymour Crosby took a step forward, then halted, looking absurdly puzzled. Mrs. Lambert relaxed the fiercely protective pressure of her arms, made an effort to lend her usually charming smile to a puzzling moment. Even Gigi raised her tear-stained little brown face and stared. Dundee felt the hot blood of embarrassment burning in his cheeks.

Like talking face-to-face

DO you make the most of modern high-speed inter-city telephoning?

Many telephone users find it practical economy to place inter-city calls by the "station-to-station" method, instead of by specifying a particular person.

Many also find it worth while to place their out-of-town calls in the evening, when many of the charges are materially lower.

The front pages of the telephone directory contain much practical information about modern inter-city telephoning, and its economies.

TWO ARE HELD TO ANSWER ON BURGLAR COUNT

D. M. White, 26, of Ft. Worth, Texas, and Johnnie Johnson, 28, of Evansville, Ind., were held to answer to the superior court when they appeared before Judge Frank Tausch in Anaheim this morning on charges of burglary. Date for filing information was set for June 6.

According to testimony of Officers Fay Barnett and Ed Presnell of the Anaheim police force, they caught White coming out of the home of F. C. James, 406 South Ohio street, Anaheim, May 23. Search of the house revealed Johnson hiding in the home, it was claimed.

Members of the James family were away from home at the time, neighbors who saw two men entering the house calling police officers. Articles asserted to have been stolen from homes on the same street were found in the possession of the men, it was claimed.

Johnson was represented in court by Raymond Ray. White was without an attorney.

ANNUAL CHEST MEETING WILL BE ON MONDAY

Three hundred invitations were in the mail today requesting attendance of recipients at the annual meeting of the Community chest of Santa Ana, to be held at noon, Monday, at the Y. M. C. A.

R. R. Miller, manager, said that attendance was not limited to those receiving invitations. The meeting is open to the public and he urged that all persons interested in the work of the chest be present. He pointed out, however, that reservations should be made through his office so that those preparing the luncheon may know how many to provide for.

W. A. Taylor, president, gives assurance that the meeting will be adjourned by 1:30 p. m. He will preside. Discussion of plans for the coming year, submission of reports and election of a board of directors will be the principal items of business. Thirty-five members are to be elected to the board of directors. The board later will select officers and members of the executive committee. The executive board is composed of nine members and the officers of the chest.

Valencia Show Programs Hit By Brotherhood

C. Root, pastor of the First Christian church in Anaheim, delivered sermons attacking the show as "cheap and shoddy."

VON ELM BEATS HILL; QUIMET, M'KENZIE WIN

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 27.—America's thrust at the British amateur golf championship received two severe setbacks today when Don Moe and Dr. O. F. Willing, both of Portland, Ore., were eliminated, while their compatriots, George Von Elm of Detroit, Roland McKenzie of Wilmington, Del., Francis Quimet of Boston and George Voigt of New York were winning.

All are Walker cup players. The other Walker cuppers, Bobby Jones of Atlanta and Jimmy Johnston, of St. Paul, were idle.

Moe lost to Rex Hartley of Coo-den Bench, a ranking British player, 3 and 2. Willing was beaten by a virtual unknown, William Spark, 2 and 1.

Willing in Uphill Fight
Willing waged a gallant, uphill fight against his less famous adversary. He had been one down at the turn, having flied to be more than all square with his opponent at any time during the outward nine.

Plugging himself while Spark faltered in the early inning nine, Willing went one up after 12 holes were played.

There were three things wrong with Willing's game. He was consistently short with his putter, too strong with his shorter irons and his drives often went into bunkers.

Willing's woes began early and continued. On the first hole he was short with his approach and putted too strongly, while Spark ran down a 15 foot putt for a birdie. That combination left its mark on the rest of Willing's round.

Spark, a bank teller and virtually unknown to important golf, became the first giant killer of the 1930 championship.

Von Elm Beats Hill
Von Elm won 4 and 2, from Dr. H. Gardner Hill of the Royal and Ancient club here.

McKenzie won by default over H. M. Cairnes of Portmarnock.

Quimet took an easy victory over Joshua Crane of Brookline, Mass., 5 and 4.

Voigt scored a 6 and 4 victory over J. R. A. Stroyan of Sunningdale. Their match was in the third round, the others having been in the second.

Offsetting the setbacks in part was the victory scored in the third round by F. C. Stevens of Hollywood, Calif., whom the British experts yesterday picked as a "dark horse." Stevens today won over F. P. McConnell of Royal Portrush, 5 and 4.

Illinois And Army Reveal Gridiron Pact

CHICAGO, May 27.—A second two-year contract, heretofore kept secret, was revealed today between West Point and the University of Illinois, indicating that the two institutions have arranged home and home football games for 1933 and 1934.

This new contract forces postponement of the new Western conference, decreeing that competition between Big Ten schools and the Army.

The conference faculty committee ruled at its meeting last Saturday that no further competition will be held between Big Ten universities and institutions which do not observe the three year eligibility rule. This move was generally interpreted as aimed directly at West Point. The ruling provided, however, that all existing contracts be carried through to completion.

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Having gazed spellbound at the Herr Schmeling getting hit on the countenance over a period of days, Mr. Benny Leonard, the reformed and thoroughly abject fighter, has wandered abstractedly into the open air, seeking solace and the light of understanding.

It seems that he cannot comprehend just what it is about the Herr Schmeling that reminds him of a prize fighter. As a matter of fact, he appears to believe that his suspicions are doing the man an injustice.

Leonard Goes to Point
Another thing that seems to have Mr. Leonard baffled is the lack of an adequate challenger who might be expected to rise up and confront John Sharkey in the years to come.

Mr. Leonard, it may be noted, is well ahead of the situation. He not only has our Mr. Sharkey identified as the heavyweight champion on and after the night of June 12 but has ventured far into the future, only to return dazed and downcast by what he saw.

He didn't say so but I get the impression that Mr. Leonard ventured so far into the unknown that he even saw the inevitable day of reckoning for a champion, now grown decadent in the years of his affluence.

"Just a hollow shell," he heard the experts say and, instinctively, he knew that he was seeing Sharkey, the great champion, meet his match at last.

Criticizes Schmeling
Possibly Benjamin doesn't see Sharkey as a great champion but merely as the certain champion-to-be. It may be that his illusions about Sharkey are all too few. If so, that isn't the point. He professes to have none about Schmeling.

"He's come all the way to within a few weeks of a world's championship fight and he's still trying to learn how to get out of the way of a left hand," says Benjamin. "He's too late. Look at him in training and you'll see what I mean. He may be able to hit. What of it? He'll be left-handed to death and never will get set for a punch. Say, this Sharkey is the surest thing in the world."

The Herr Schmeling, in truth, has been at no pains, to date, to convince the bystanders at Endicott that he is on the verge of momentous achievements.

Think Max is Set-Up
Some of the bystanders, indeed, looked at what they saw and then committed lese majesty by stating right out loud in print their belief that the Herr Schmeling is on the verge of a knockout. This liked the man so considerably that he went out the next day and tried to offer up a few sparring partners as a sacrifice on the altar of public opinion.

However, most of his workouts have been the same. He goes on with an obscure light heavyweight named Don Petrin and promptly gets hit by a series of lefts on the countenance. Then he takes on a brawler by the name of Vincent Poreda and promptly gets hit by a series of rights on the countenance. He finishes up the day with George Neron, a personal friend, and good, old Jack De Mave, a strictly impersonal relic of this comical profession.

One cannot startle anybody by a program like that and the bystanders desire it to be thoroughly understood that they are not startled. In fact, a little more of this and they will make Sharkey about 2 to 1 by the day of the fight.

PRINTERS HACK BUTCHERS. SET LEAGUE RECORD

It didn't take long to establish a new Santa Ana City league scoring record. There was one on record today.

The Dennis Printers, champions of the Twilight league of 1929, made it in the Bowl last night when they butchered the butchers from Peek's market, 22 to 4.

This was the third straight victory for Carlyle Dennis' Typesetters.

Veteran Horace Snow, Peek pitcher, was attacked savagely in the fourth and fifth innings and his support also proved wobbly.

The Peek hitters were unable to do very much with Bill Humphries who allowed only five scattered hits.

The Peek-Printer tilt was the highlight to the regular Monday double-header, the forepart of which was won by the Courthouse, 8-7, from the Eastern Oil company.

Both sides did the bulk of the run-making in the last inning, the Oilers' four-run rally in the last hour proving just one run shy of the necessary mark.

City league action will be resumed Wednesday when there will be another twin bill. The American Legion meets the Excelsior creamery at 6:45, and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company faces the Auto Club of Orange County at 8:15.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Although we have had night baseball, in and out, good and bad, for a good many years, the sport did not become a "major" here until 1927. That was the year intense rivalry matured between Santa Ana and Anaheim. Since 1926, the year the Orange County Night league was organized, the geographical enemies have met in combat six times. Four of the six have resulted in protested games. Three of the four were carried to the tribunals by Anaheim.

Both 1927 contests were ordered replayed.

The first game that season was won by Anaheim, 4-3. There was an interference play somewhere along the line and the umpires allowed Anaheim baserunners to advance on it. The Stars protested, won their complaint but lost when the match was replayed, 7 to 3.

A few weeks later the teams met in another league game and Santa Ana won, 6 to 2. Anaheim protested when a baserunner was called out because a coach touched him at a time no play was being made. This one was ordered replayed also, Santa Ana winning, 14 to 6.

It was in this contest that Pitcher Joe Ochoa broke into the big time. He started for Anaheim and was batted out of the box in the first inning, the Stars scoring six times.

Everything was serene in 1928, when the clubs met twice and broke even, but Anaheim came up with a squawk last summer, charging interference during a rally which gave the Stars their first victory on Anaheim soil, 5 to 3. That was the game "Rosey" Merrill really won by tripping with the bases full.

The first Santa Ana-Anaheim collision of 1930 finds Anaheim again in its familiar role of protestant.

Maybe the Valencias have a legitimate complaint. If the situations were reversed Santa Ana might feel it was plainly deserving of better fate from the umpires.

I do know that the complaints and counter-complaints which develop every time Santa Ana and Anaheim battle are beginning to make a travesty of the "little world series."

If President George W. Peterkin, a sincere, honest sort of fellow who is rapidly learning that being the head of a hotbed is anything but roses, rules that the contest be replayed he ought to send the boys out there bound to a catch-as-catch-can agreement that there will be no further protests and that both sides will abide by umpires' decisions.

After all the place to win ball games is on the playing field.

Hudkins And Shade Clash In L. A. Ring

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—Bitter rivals for three years, Ace Hudkins and Dave Shade, middleweights, met for the first time tonight in the Main event at the Olympic auditorium.

Both Shade and his opponent were in the pink for their scheduled 10-rounds with only a pound difference in their weights. Shade expects to register 157 pounds, while Ace will bend the beam at a pound heavier.

Promoter Jack Doyle is understood to have made Hudkins a flat offer of $12,500 for the night's work, while Shade is to receive 20 per cent of the gate, which should about make his earnings a toss up with Hudkins if the expected house turns out.

SANTA ANA 'B' TEAM RALLIES TO BEAT OLIVE

It is better to be late than never so Santa Ana's Shell Bees were jubilant today as they celebrated a hard-earned 16 to 11 victory over Olive in an Orange County "B" league baseball game at Olive last night.

This was Olive's first defeat in five games.

After trailing almost all the way, Kenneth Sturzenegger's stalwarts broke through Olive's stubborn defense in the ninth inning to tie the count at 11-all, then broke through again the eleventh for five more tallies.

Arguments, threats and near fist fights enlivened proceedings.

Marvin Johnston's home run behind an error on Sands put Santa Ana ahead in the first inning.

Olive tied the score in the second. The Bees again went out in front in the third and Olive tied it up in its half, then got a couple more in the fourth and apparently won the decision in the fifth by pushing in four markers.

A single run in the sixth left the score 11-4, and the Bees apparently outclassed, but as Ed Santa began to pitch better the Santa Anans began to "Hay" Hammond.

They got one in the seventh, another in the eighth and five in the ninth after two were out.

"Franny" Norton's home run paced the Bees in their great eleventh round rally during which Jasper, Santa, Walbridge and Dorman also hit safely.

Banta hurled great ball in the last five chapters, fanning seven and allowing only one man to reach base, and then on a bunt.

NEWPORT HARBOR WINS FROM WHITTIER

Newport Harbor sprung a genuine surprise by whipping the crack Whittier entry, 10 to 9, at Costa Mesa.

Whittier scored three times in the first of the ninth, apparently sewing up the issue, but the Harborites broke through in the last part of the round and scored the same number of times. The score: R H E

Newport H. 030 120 103—10 7 1

Garden Grove	5 7 .417
Fullerton	5 7 .417
Orange	4 8 .333
La Habra	1 11 .083

Those troublesome young men from the chilipepper fields of Garden Grove make their first appearance of the National league baseball season in the Santa Ana Bowl tonight.

Not a great team but most certainly always a good and a game one, the slugging Garden Grove combination invades the Sixth and Olive street plant with a 50-50 chance of disturbing the sanctity of a club that may be just a little too cheery as a result of its recent exploits against Anaheim and Long Beach.

They Beat the Big Ones
It was little more than a week ago that Garden Grove went to Anaheim under similar conditions, encountered an Anaheim team that had lost only once and scored such an impressive victory that even the prolific Valencias could find nothing over which to register a protest.

Incidentally that unexpected turn of events so unnerved Anaheim that it has been unable to win a single heat since—dropping contests in rapid succession to Olive and Santa Ana.

"Big Bill" Cole, husky leader of the Stars almost tore off one of his dogs sliding into second base at Anaheim Friday night but he will be out on the coaching lines this eve. Despite their slow start, the Stars have an outside chance of overhauling the flying leaders of "Gawge" Peterkin's loop and Cole will leave no stone unturned to accomplish an end that seemed a physical and a mathematical impossibility a few weeks ago.

It is wonderful what a tonic La Habra's triumph over Whittier had on the boys last week.

Prior Probable Pitcher
Earl Price probably will oppose Ray Morrill in the Bowl battle which gets under way, as usual, at 8 bells.

The lanky Star right hander did so well at Fullerton his last time out of the wraps that he almost convinced the board of strategists he is ready for a regular turn out there with Joe Cornelius who probably will be saved for all the hot shots—such as Huntington Beach Friday night.

Willcox will be behind the bat. Curt Youel probably will replace his lame leader at first base. Darwin Scott also is expected back in the lineup and if so he will go to his old post at third base, letting Hill return to shortstop and Daley second base. Nelson, Schuchardt and Merrill will be the outfielders if Captain Cole nominates this lineup.

S. A. Boys Aid Visitors
A couple of well known Santa Ana ball players will be here with Garden Grove. One is Jerry Heard, a hard-hitting first baseman, and the other Bob Bowe, a shortstop who has been covering a lot of ground for the Chilipeppers. "Home Run" Hapes, the catcher, is the Chilipeppers' big noise on the offense although little Les Fulsom at third base and "Lefty" Garr, an outfielder, are far from being palookas with the willow.

Two other important games are scheduled in other sectors.

The drooping Anaheim find Lloyd Lichenwaller and Roy Robinson are right the Colonists may lose their fourth straight start.

Whittier invades Huntington Beach. Howard Morning's no-hit game at Orange Friday indicates the celebrated southpaw is rounding into his old form. It may be in the cards for the Oilers to take the leaders. A stranger thing happened last week.

Olive and Orange, old rivals, have a little civil warfare at Orange. Fullerton and La Habra, the tail-enders, mingle at La Habra.

HITS USE OF CREEK FOR DUMP GROUND

ORANGE, May 27.—Deploring the use of the Santiago creek bed as a catch-all for refuse, garbage and rubbish, Ray Smith, county inspector of food and sanitation, has issued a general warning to all concerned that the practice must cease. A law that covers the disposal of such material, while not being enforced before, will be rigidly adhered to in the future, Smith declared.

Such practices while admittedly necessary, should only be used in conjunction with an isolated district and not in a public water way, as Santiago creek, Smith said.

WOMAN HURT AS MACHINES COLLIDE

ORANGE, May 28.—Mrs. Sophie Wiedman, of San Pedro, was slightly injured in an automobile crash at the corner of Chapman avenue and Main street early Sunday evening. Two cars figured in the collision, a coupe driven by Stewart Maus, of Orange, and one driven by Edward Wiedman, of San Pedro.

The Wiedman car received the worst of the matter, being jammed into a telephone pole at the intersection. All the occupants were shaken and bruised.

Rosenberg Brothers, having abandoned the Los Angeles plant, will center that plant's former activities here, the desire of being nearer the source of supply compelling the change. F. S. Bishop, of Santa Ana, has the construction under way and the work will be completed before the walnut season opens.

CONFIRM CLASS AT SERVICE IN OLIVE CHURCH

OLIVE, May 27.—St. Paul's Lutheran church was the scene of a very impressive service Sunday morning, in which the following children were admitted to Holy Communion through the sacred rite of confirmation: Irma Klassen, Edna Heim, Alice Heinemann, Hildegard Boehner, Hilma Krage, Walther Boehner, Roy Truemper, Henry Paulus and Elmer Luchau. To the strains of the organ, played by M. A. Schmid, the class marched to the altar, led by the pastor, the Rev. E. H. Kreidt. The girls were attired in white silk and the boys in dark suits. The altar niche of the church had been transformed into a veritable garden of flowers which were beautiful baskets of gladiolus and carnations, upon a background of green palms.

The service began with a German altar service, after which the pastor spoke briefly to the members of the congregation of their duties and obligations to these youngest members, basing his address on the words of Jesus, "Feed my Lambs."

The examination of the children in the fundamentals of Christian doctrine and also the confirmation act were conducted in the English language. "Abide, O Dearest Jesus" was sung by the class. Choosing his text from Titus 2, 11-14, the pastor spoke to the children on "The Past and the Future," stressing the blessing which had come to them in their Christian education, and calling upon them to live for the glory of God and the glorious appearing of their Savior. The church auditorium was filled to capacity with members of the congregation and numerous guests from Orange, Brea, Anaheim and Los Angeles.

EUGENE G. HOFF LAID TO REST IN FAIRHAVEN

Surrounded by massed flowers that expressed the esteem in which he was held by his friends, Eugene G. Hoff, for many years connected with the Orange county courts as official stenographer, and whose death occurred Friday night, May 23, in his home at 312 West Washington avenue, yesterday went to his final rest in Fairhaven cemetery following services held in the Smith and Tutill chapel.

That simplicity which had characterized his life, was evident in the chapel rites conducted by the Rev. W. L. H. Benton of La Crescenta, former pastor of the Church of the Messiah of this city. James Nuckolls brought additional comfort to saddened hearts by his solos, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "Abide With Me." Then, with members of Santa Ana lodge, F. and A. M., No. 241 as guard, the scene was transferred to Fairhaven cemetery.

Harry Hanson, Charles Carrillo, John C. Lamb, Russell Coleman, Lester Slaback and Earl Abbey served as pallbearers. The Masonic ritual for burial of a Master Mason, was conducted by Arthur E. Collins, senior warden of the lodge. Burial was made in the family lot by Mr. Hoff's mother and his wife, who preceded him in death. Mrs. Eugene Hoff, was formerly Miss Sarah Gardner, one of the community's most gifted musicians. She and Mr. Hoff were married July 3, 1923, in Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside. Her death was on May 7, 1927.

NEW SHOE STORE OPENS WEDNESDAY

Much interest in local business circles, has been shown in the formal opening on Wednesday and Thursday, of the Santa Ana branch of the Diamond Booteries, located at 303 West Fourth street.

Fred Bauchwitz and Henry A. Givens of the shoe firm, recently purchased the Ray Brothers store which formerly operated at that address, and having stocked the shelves with attractive new footwear, are now in readiness to open the store to the public. Managing the business and serving the customers will be two competent shoe men, M. M. Johnson and M. Severance, both of whom are well known in this city and who have had years of experience in the correct fitting of shoes.

Each of the two has expressed satisfaction in the quality and appearance of the new stock which shows prevailing summer styles and materials at popular prices within the five and six dollar range.

"VALENCIA" NEARLY READY
The "Valencia," long drawn out venture of E. D. Borge, will soon be ready to take the water from the ways of the Los Angeles Steamship and Dry Dock company.

It was originally intended that the vessel was to ply between Newport Bay and Mexico. As it is estimated that over $125,000 is tied up in the boat, it is an open question if she can be made to pay.

Why Fat Men Stay Fat

"The trouble with me, and I guess this applies to 99 per cent of the men who are putting on weight, I didn't have the energy or pep to keep it off. Lost all interest in any healthy activity and just lazed around accumulating the old pounds until I got that 'Kruschen feeling'."

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate, you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and need to do to keep you in good condition.

Then watch the pounds slide off! Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning—and if they don't change your whole idea about reducing, go back and get the small price you paid for them. Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at Mater's Drug Co., and Givens & Cannon, or any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.—Adv.

Files Protest Against Closing Beach At Dana Point

LETTER SENT COUNTY BOARD BY RESIDENT

Alfred E. Guy, a resident of Dana Point today filed complaint with the county board of supervisors protesting the closing of the beach at the foot of the "street of the Blue Lantern" at Dana Point.

Guy in his letter to the board declared the property was deeded to the public of Orange county four years ago by the San Juan Point corporation. At the present time, Guy states, the beach is closed by locked gates. His protest to the board follows:

"Board of Supervisors, Orange County, Santa Ana, California.

"I hereby protest against the closing of the beach at Dana Point, Calif.

"The records of Orange county very clearly show that the Dana Point Beach, located at the foot of the 'Street of the Blue Lantern,' is a public beach, the same having been deeded to the public of Orange county by the San Juan Point Corporation about four years ago. The records show that that corporation foresaw the needs and advantages of county-owned beaches and through its officers, Joe Skidmore and Dr. Beebe, of Laguna Beach, presented Dana Point Beach to the Orange county public. The Western Construction company, Los Angeles, have built gates across roadways that have been open to the public as long as the oldest residents of the county remember. These roadways extend from the street of the Green Lantern through property of the Title Insurance and Trust company, Los Angeles, down the bluff grade in front of the Walters estate to the beach. The gates are kept locked on the apparent orders of S. H. Woodruff, Los Angeles.

"The citizens of Orange county are entitled to the use of Dana Point Beach and are turned away daily by locked gates and signs indicating that the beach is privately owned. I am a citizen and a voter of this county and hereby place the board on notice of the appropriation of this beach (county beach) by private Los Angeles parties, and vigorously protest the continuation of this condition.

"ALFRED E. GUY,
Dana Point, Calif."

CONTESTANTS IN WALKATHON TIRED

ORANGE COUNTY PIONEER DIES IN LA HABRA

LA HABRA, May 27.—Funeral services for Mrs. Clara York, 60, La Habra pioneer, who passed away suddenly Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her home on East Central avenue, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church in La Habra, with the Rev. Daniel Dundas, pastor, in charge. Interment will be made at Loma Vista cemetery.

Death came suddenly following a severe heart attack. Her condition became so grave Monday that her two children, Burt York, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Dave Lemke, of Buena Park, were called to her bedside and were with her when the end came. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Harriet Van Meter, also was with her. Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Eva J. Blee, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Clarence Gilson, recently of New York, now making her home in Santa Ana; Mrs. Martha Porter of Scranton, North Dakota, and a brother, Homer Tenney, of Scranton, North Dakota; five grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mr. York died a year ago, when he was struck by a car in Fullerton.

During the 27 years residence in La Habra Mr. and Mrs. York had seen the development of the community and had been actively connected with the development, being workers in the formation of the citrus association, banking concern, organization of the Methodist church, Woman's club and school board. They had served as officers in all these organizations.

Aside from these organizations, Mrs. York was a member of the Monday Afternoon club and the Hacienda Country club.

D. A. V. TO HOLD REGULAR MEET ON WEDNESDAY

The regular business meeting of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War will take place Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion hall, Santa Ana. Final arrangements will be made at that time to participate in Memorial day services at Fairhaven cemetery on Friday. In conjunction with the American Legion Post No. 131 memorial service will be held at the mausoleum at Fairhaven for all comrades who are at rest there and other cemeteries. This service will begin at 9 a. m. The time and place will be designated at this meeting where the D. A. V. will meet and go to the cemetery in a body. The graves of all disabled veterans will be decorated by members of the Jack Fisher chapter.

Commander H. O. Rasmussen of the Jack Fisher chapter has announced that all members who desire will engage in an afternoon's competition at the Tom Thumb golf course, 1201 South Main street. This was made possible through the kind co-operation of W. G. Clark, proprietor of the Tom Thumb course, and he promises many surprises for D. A. V. men and their families on Friday. There will be other matters of importance to all members at this session and a large turnout is anticipated, according to Rasmussen.

GLIDER TO BE SHOWN IN S. A. ON THURSDAY

Eddie Evans and his all-steel glider will be in Santa Ana at the Eddie Martin Airport on Thursday at 11 o'clock and will remain here throughout the day, giving demonstrations and flights.

With the probability of a glider club being formed in Santa Ana and surrounding cities the visit here of Evans and his glider is attracting considerable attention.

In speaking of gliding and gliders this morning Evans said:

"Learning to glide is really learning to fly, for relying upon the air currents only, with no other motive power is the true flying just as sailing a ship is the true style. Knowing the fundamentals of air currents, which the glider teaches, naturally will be of great benefit to the pilot of an airplane and in fact, in some European countries a pilot of a powered plane also must have a gliding certificate.

"Gliding meets are bound to become popular and there now are quite a number of clubs, including several girls' clubs that have their gliders and are enjoying the sport and fun, in addition to the instruction that they receive and the knowledge of the air currents that they acquire."

Uncle Reads Of Nephew's Work In S. A. Register

R. K. Peck, of 223 Cypress street, was surprised Saturday evening when, perusing his copy of The Register, he discovered a large picture of his nephew and a full page feature article concerning the work of that young man.

The article was on the Intisy tree, which is regarded as a new source for rubber, and Peck's nephew, Dr. Charles F. Swingle, of the United States department of agriculture, is conducting extensive experiments relative to the propagation and growth of the tree as a rubber supply source. Dr. Swingle also has a brother-in-law residing near Santa Ana, Ralph Hull, whose home is on Fairhaven road just east of the cemetery.

Peck stated yesterday that he planned to write his nephew for one of the trees for the purpose of seeing if it could be grown in Orange county. A planting has been made near San Diego and another in Florida. The tree is a native of Madagascar, where Dr. Swingle got the roots for the experiments he is now conducting.

SHRINERS WILL BE GUESTS OF SAN CLEMENTE

San Clemente is ready to welcome the Orange County Shrine club and the Oceanside Shrine club on an outing here on Wednesday. Dan Mulherson, head of the barbecue committee has his boat ready to make a fishing trip to secure fish and clams for the barbecue.

During the day a golf tournament will be staged. There will be prizes for men and women. A baseball game is scheduled. There will be surf and fresh water bathing in the San Clemente Beach club pool. Tennis, horseshoe pitching, horseback riding and other means of recreation, including pier, live bait and barge fishing have been arranged.

In the evening after the barbecue a dance will be held at the Social club at which a Fullerton orchestra will play. Bill Hason has several unique numbers for entertainment and Trafford Huteson, in charge of this part of the day, announces everything set for a good time.

Hal Warner, chairman, says that the stage is set to welcome the Shriners, his committees reporting all work done and everything ready for the invasion of the fezz wearers from Orange county and Oceanside.

The moving pictures of the trip, taken by Norton, will be shown beginning at 8 o'clock. Following this, Director Crocheron will talk for about 45 minutes on the situation as he found it, as regards the prospect for disposing of California's surplus crops in the Far East.

The address to be given in Anaheim is the only one to be made in this district. Professor Crocheron announces, and those who are interested in the subject and wish to hear him discuss it, probably will have their only opportunity at this time.

Mrs. Boon, originator of the formula, was presented with the daintiest of corsages, combining gardenias and lilies of the valley, while the girls of Dept. 3 wore corsages of sweet peas.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, buyer for the department, was in charge of the interesting event. Following the dinner, the little group adjourned to the second floor of Rankin's, where the trio from Los Angeles gave the interesting lecture and demonstration.

Brilliant Concert Is Presented at Ebell Yesterday

The thrill of a mocking bird perched on a treetop near the Ebell clubhouse, answered the first lively note sung by Madame Manuela Budrow at a concert given at the Ebell clubhouse yesterday afternoon. As if in answer to her feathered imitator, Madame Budrow closed her program with the lovely melody "To a Mocking Bird."

The program was presented by Madame Budrow, soloist, a former resident of Santa Ana and whom the city still claims as its own, and Alexander Kosloff, pianist, both of Hollywood. The artists were introduced by Mrs. Robert Tuthill, president of the club, who brought a happy intimate note in her talk by recalling the many occasions members of the audience had enjoyed Madame Budrow's gift of song.

Both Madame Budrow and Kosloff graciously responded to several of their numbers with encores.

The program consisted of "Boats of Mine" by Stratton Miller; "The Love That Linketh Soul to Soul" by Liszt; "The Arsa" by Rubenstein; "Human Flowers" by Florence Delphine; "Think of Me Sometimes" by Adele Freebey; "Spring Welcome" by Clarence Gustin; "Serenata" by Clarence Gustin; and "The Cry of Rachel" by Salter, all presented by Madame Budrow.

Madame Budrow concluded with "Arabian Song" by Lauranta, "Ven, la Noche es Bella," (Come, the Night is Sweet), and "El Bandolero." Both of the latter two compositions are her own.

Clarence Gustin played the accompaniments for his compositions which Madame Budrow sang. Both were brilliant selections and the singer had composed the words for the latter of the second of the group, "Serenata," which is dedicated to her.

Travel Talk on Chile Adds Interest to B. P. W. Dinner

The climate of Chile, he said, is very much like that of California. The same vegetation is found there as that with which we are familiar. Chile's area is twice that of California. The average width is 87 miles, and it is 2800 miles in length.

The Latin American likes to have things pretty, he stated. There are pretty plazas, parks and trees. He likes to stroll about while listening to the band concerts. Lewis described the various buildings and topography in Valparaiso, and the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. The latter provides free baths and tea to the poor girls of the city.

Mr. Lewis described an excursion trip which he and Mrs. Lewis took in company with 78 Chileans on vacation to the Chilean lakes which Roosevelt said were as pretty as the Alps.

"The citizens are very up-to-date. They have daylight saving, provision for which is incorporated into the constitution, and they have adequate compulsory employee's insurance."

While in Chile Mr. Lewis visited two farms where he saw growing all the products which are grown in this section of the country.

In closing he suggested that tourists from the United States in South America should conduct themselves in such a way as to avoid bringing shame upon their native country.

Invitations are out for the annual senior dance, which will be held on the evening of May 29 in the high school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landell and small daughter, Nila Ann, of Los Angeles, spent the week end with Judge John Landell and family.

Civil War Veterans Need Flowers For Memorial Day

Many flowers are needed by Sedgwick Post No. 17, G. A. R., for the proper observance of Decoration day on Friday, May 30, according to J. H. Brown, commander of the post, who has asked patriotic citizens of Santa Ana to assist by sending their flowers to help decorate the graves of those comrades of the Civil war for whom the day was originated.

There are over 500 Civil war veterans now resting in Fairhaven cemetery according to Commander Brown, and it takes many, many flowers to lay a spray on each of the "small green tents where the soldiers sleep." For the past two years the veterans have been short of flowers, and it is hoped the citizens of Santa Ana will send their blossoms this year that there may be enough for all, and that this most sacred of all patriotic holidays may be fittingly observed.

It will be appreciated if the flowers can be sent to the northeast corner of Birch park by 10 o'clock Thursday morning, the day before they are to be used, but if there is anyone who has blossoms to give but no way of sending them to the park, they may telephone C. F. Miller, 727-R, and they will be called for.

Many groups of distinguished residents of the Southland are expected to attend the concert to be given in the Anaheim amphitheater June 4 by Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink and George Stinson, "singing cop" of this city, with the Santa Ana American Legion post in charge of the event.

Governor C. C. Young has expressed his intention of being present and the affair will be given an air of metropolitan brilliancy by the presence of prominent critics, motion picture officials, government officials and local celebrities.

Among those who have engaged seats for the event are Carl Laemmle Jr., of Universal pictures, who has shown a great interest in Stinson's career; Jack Hatch, director of the R. K. O. Picture company; Marah Ellis Ryan, well known author; Jack Beck, general manager of R. K. O. Dr. Otto Peters, Universal director; Eli Brown of Los Angeles; Byron Fitts, and Gene Biskey, head of the highway traffic patrol.

Numerous theater parties have been planned in this city and in surrounding cities by Judge John Landell, Juan Capistrano; Judge F. S. Warner and Tom Murphy of San Clemente; Chief L. A. Warner of San Clemente; Ann Priella Rischer of Laguna Beach; Margherita Marsden of this city, head of the Phi Zeta sorority of which Madame Schumann-Heink is honorary president; Trafford Hueston of San Clemente, president of the Chamber of Commerce of that city; William Raines of Lido Island, John Stanton and J. H. Pankey of Tustin.

Othman Stevens, well known musical critic of Los Angeles, who was one of the first critics to hear Stinson sing and who has been largely responsible for his determination to study for grand opera, will be present.

Four Generations Are Present at Party

A happy occasion indeed was the dinner given Sunday in honor of Mrs. J. H. Thompson, 917 West Myrtle street, who had reached her eighty-second birthday anniversary on this day. Four generations of two branches of the Thompson family were present. Sweet peas and roses were used in the decorations and Mrs. Thompson received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Thompson has had a most interesting life. She was born in Chicago and was a young woman at the time of the Chicago fire. Many of the refugees were brought to the Thompson home and camped in the yard. Mr. Thompson having been one of the rescue workers and the home was just outside of the district burned.

Present at Sunday's affair were the Thompsons' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mitchell, the two families sharing the West Myrtle street home; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Miss Violet Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Markwood, Miss Caroline Markwood and Richard Markwood.

Invitations are out for the annual senior dance, which will be held on the evening of May 29 in the high school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landell and small daughter, Nila Ann, of Los Angeles, spent the week end with Judge John Landell and family.

While here, Mrs. John Landell, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Gladys Landell, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Landell, and her little granddaughter, Nila Ann, made a trip to Oceanside to introduce the baby to her great aunt, Mrs. H. Hargreaves, who is a sister of Judge Landell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilkie, of Newhall, parents of Mrs. Harvey Larkin, arrived Wednesday for a short visit in San Juan.

The well known Palms cafe, established some 12 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bird, now of Laguna Beach, will re-open June 1 under the management of their son, Jennings. The cafe, which has been closed for a period of months, was started by the Birds at a time when there were 82 through stages each day, making San Juan Capistrano their midway terminal.

Robert DePrez will play a part in the coming Greek comedy, "Lystrata," which will be presented by the Laguna Beach Community players in June.

Mrs. D. P. Morgan, pioneer of this district, who has been a patient in a San Francisco hospital for several months, returned home last week to be greeted by her sisters, the Misses Dorothy and Jennie Sommers, teachers in Carson City, Nev., who arrived in her absence to spend the summer in San Juan.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Why Figures Go To Seed

Today we are going to take a look at a gone-to-seed figure and go into conference on ways and means to remodel it into something the owner will be proud of. Perhaps that woman may be you.

I am pretty sure you aren't too happy when you try on this year's gowns and wonder what on earth is wrong with you all of a sudden . . . what makes you look so bumpy and thick . . . and why does your back look so wide . . . and what's wrong with the long full skirts which look so luscious in style books, but are so utterly blah on you? There are three factors which contribute equally to this figure trouble.

The first is posture.—In the out-molded waistless dresses you allowed yourself to slump because accented bust-lines were not being done and because you could. This season the figure is shown up from top of head to tip of toe, but in a charming feminine way that is all soft of line, yet trim. It means you have to stand erect, tummy pulled in, shoulders erect, and your head carried on your shoulders like a flower on stem. The retiring turtle attitude is definitely OUT. Stand erect.

The second reason is a stricter observance of diet.—Dieting correctly corrects that bumpy, clumsy look about the waist and abdomen. By that I mean stricter limiting the use of starchy foods, i. e., bread, potatoes, rice, cereals. Eat in place of such things quantities of leafy green vegetables, raw and cooked. They satisfy the appetite, but mean very little as far as putting on fat is concerned, and they do act as a bowel regulator and soon dissipate that uncomfortable gassy feeling that comes from eating too many starchy foods.

The third reason is Exercise.—By that I mean not the exercise you get in doing housework or walking, although both are valuable in their place, but using each and every morning a set of exercises designed to slim down the flesh which has a tendency to pile up on hips, backs and legs after thirty. Work out your own set—it's lots of fun—then stick with them until the tape line begins to show signs of life and you feel as supple as a willow wand.

REQUIRED HELP TO LEAVE CHAIR

"Rheumatic pains had me in such bad shape I couldn't get out of my chair without help. A poor appetite and indigestion pulled me down, I couldn't half sleep and I concluded that this 'old machine' was worn out' when I started Sargon. Four bottles restored my appetite, my digestion is sound, I sleep fine and my whole system is strengthened and invigorated. All my rheumatic pains are gone and I really enjoy getting out and walking around town.

a thin coating of French mustard (prepared mustard) and roll the slices nicely in freshly grated crumbs. Do this half an hour before time to cook the slices, so that the crumbs will have a chance to dry a bit.
Put enough butter in a skillet to fry the crumbed slices a nice brown, or I should say, saute the slices so that the slow cooking will let the seasonings work into the beef. Transfer to a hot platter, pour a sufficient amount of hot brown gravy around the beef and serve with baked potatoes.

It is a little difficult to give an accurate estimate of the calories in a made-over dish, but I believe that a pound of sliced solid beef will serve five people. This, with the butter and gravy, will make the individual total about 550, but that depends on the amount of gravy used. Generous servings of gravy run the calories up quite a bit, y'know.

I know that every woman who reads the Mixing Bowl is going to want a copy of the current leaflet, MY FORMAL DINNER PARTY, so she had better send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope this week while the leaflet is free of charge.

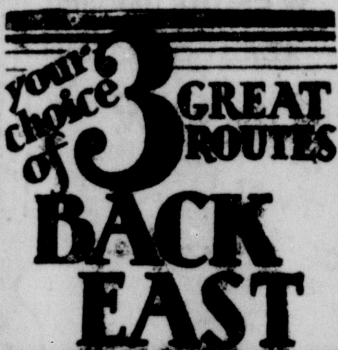

This menu is the story of a dinner I served in my own home not long ago, and in it I tell you how much to buy for eight people, give you all the recipes, and tell you exactly how to cook and serve this dinner all by yourself.

To morrow I am going to give you a recipe for the grandest salad dressing you have ever eaten. It is called Myrtle's Salad Dressing.

NINE SONGS HEARD IN 'THE CUCKOOS'

Nine songs are featured in "The Cuckoos," first starring picture for Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, famous comedians of "Rio Rita," which was seen here recently. The show, a Radio Pictures production, is now playing at the Fox Broadway theater.

"I Love You So Much," sung by Bert Wheeler and Dorothy Lee, who sang "Sweetheart, We Need Each Other" in "Rio Rita"; "Wherever You Are," sung by June Clyde and Hugh Trevor, and "I'm a Gypsy," sung by Johnny Howard, are some of the best numbers of the production, while Raymond Maurel sings "Laugh Today and Cry Tomorrow," with a male chorus.

The plot of the show concerns two fortune tellers, Woolsey and Wheeler, who find themselves stranded in Mexico. They are Professor Bird and his assistant, Sparrow. Sparrow has fallen in love with Anita, an American girl, who is living at a gypsy camp, and Julius, the leader of the gypsy band, to kill the fortune tellers. Baron de Camp puts Julius under his command. The baron wishes to marry Ruth Chester, who has been brought there by her Aunt Fannie to get her away from an aviator.

In a desperate plot Julius kidnaps Ruth and Sparrow and Bird rescue her. Their escapades and unusual situations make the picture hilariously funny at all times.

A Fox Movietone news reel and an all-talking comedy complete the bill.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacLoyd and daughter, May, of Hollywood, accompanied by Don Fred Dicks, who is attending school at Sawtelle, spent the week end in San Juan Capistrano with the latter's mother, Mrs. Isabel Dicks.

Allen, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell Cook, celebrated his birthday last week by inviting several of his young friends to his home. The house was decorated with roses and a miniature Maypole graced the center of the dining table, around which the young guests gathered to enjoy a candle-light birthday cake and ice cream. Those invited were Billy Bathgate, John Hankey, Richard Smith and Raymond Tyler.

Miss Myrtle McMin of the local telephone staff is spending her vacation in Portales, New Mexico.

JOLSON REALIZES DREAM IN 'MAMMY'

For three years Al Jolson kept in the back of his mind the idea that he would one day make a "Mammy" picture based on minstrel show life, along lines once outlined to him by his friend, Irving Berlin.

During the time Jolson was making Warner Brothers history and entertainment history at the same time—"The Jazz Singer," "The Singing Fool," "Say It With Songs"—he was building up to what he believed would be his greatest picture. Proof that his judgment was correct may be seen at Walker's State theater where "Mammy," an all-talking, singing minstrel romance with technicolor, is now showing.

"Mammy" is a dramatic story of life with a traveling minstrel show and especially of Al Fuller, an enderman. It is a comedy of errors in which the laughs have it. There are many gorgeous songs also written by Irving Berlin. A splendid cast headed by Lois Moran, Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman, Mitchell Lewis, Hobart Bosworth and Tully Marshall supports the star.

"Mammy" is making screen history.

IRVINE

IRVINE, May 27.—Mrs. Ida Wells and baby, Barbara, and her sister, Nellie Hammontree, have left for a visit with relatives and friends in Tulsa, Okla., Sunday. They will visit cousin Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shell and Mr. and Mrs. C. Farnley, before going on to Grove, to visit their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McCallister. From there they will go to Mayesville, Ark., to visit in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hammontree. Mrs. McCallister was well known on the ranch, having visited her sister here for several months about three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers and daughter and baby, George Heacock and family, of Santa Ana, were recent all day guests in the home of Mrs. Heacock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Saylor.

Mrs. Ed Richards is now in charge of the school cafeteria, since it was given up by Cecyl Parham. Mr. Richards has taken over the janitor work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cox and children, Lorraine, Catherine and Ted, left early Thursday morning for Flagstaff, Ariz., where Mrs. Cox and the children will stay for several months for their health.

'GOLDEN CALF' TO CONTINUE SHOWING

"Her Golden Calf," a story of artists and models and their antics and frolics, which opened a three-day engagement at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday, will play through tomorrow night.

With Sue Carol and Jack Mulhall in the leading roles, the cast includes also El Brendel, who will be remembered here as the Swede comedian in "The Cook Eyed World" and "Hot For Paris." Others in the cast include Marjorie White and Richard Keene, who really put the show over its hard-earned spots.

A number of good songs are heard, including "Maybe Some Day," "Can I Help It" and "Telling the World About You," while El Brendel sings a comedy number, "A Picture No Artist Can Paint," which is probably the best single number in the show.

The story concerns an artist, Jack Mulhall, whose secretary, Sue Carol, an old fashioned girl, is very much in love with him. In his search for a model with perfect leg measurements, Sue discovers that her limbs are perfect, and how she goes about to show him that she has the legs he is seeking goes to make up the climax of the picture. Several good dance and song scenes feature the show.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

"Oh, my," cried Clowny. "What a sight. That whale is mighty big, all right. But what's it doing up on shore? It should be in the sea! It surely cannot swim around when it is up on solid ground." This made the whole bunch laugh. The thought was funny as could be.

"Of course it can't," wee Scouty said. "Once more you fail to use your head. The fisherman will tell us why the whale is way up here. 'You bet I will,' replied the man. 'At least I'll tell as best I can. Don't be afraid of Mister Whale. There's not a thing to fear. 'From whales we get a lot of things and each whale heaps of money brings. We even get fine butter and good margarine to eat. We have a process now, you see, that hardens whale oil. Mercy me, when it's brought forth as butter it is really quite a treat.' They listened to a whole lot more and then knew what the whales were for. The Travel Man soon said, "I guess we'd best be on our way. We've seen some interesting fish and now, my lads, I frankly wish that we could soon find something else to finish up the day.

They slowly backed back into town and as the whole bunch looked around, one of the Tinies jumped up in the air and loudly cried, "Oh, look! A queer cart's right nearby. It's something I would like to try." "All right," replied the Travel man. "We all will take a ride."

They went up to the man, who said, "You want to ride? Well, go ahead and hop right in. I'm sure that you'll enjoy it. Bless my soul!" The Tinymites all spread a grin and very promptly hopped right in. The Travel Man then told them they were in a cariole.

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

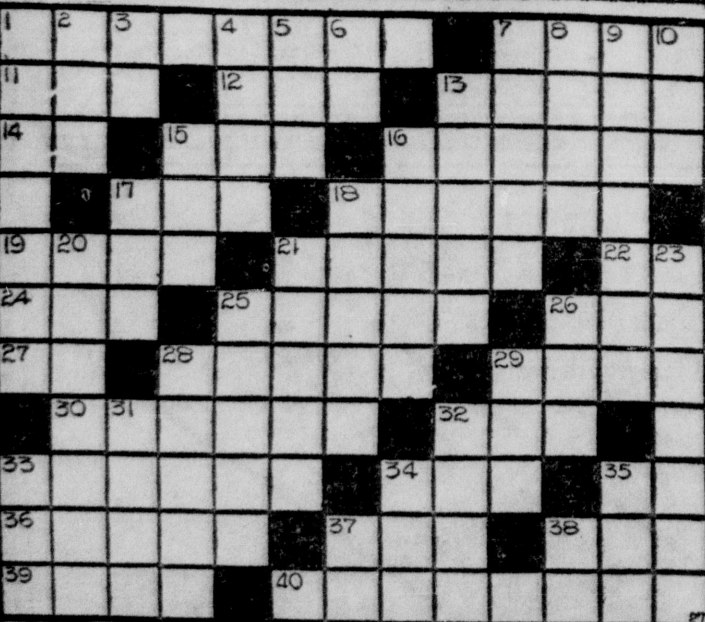

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

Huntington Beach Wildcat Well Being Deepened

THOROUGH TEST INDICATED IN TWO PROJECTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 27.—It has been announced from sources close to the Barnsdall Oil company that the Newland-Borchard well on the east side is being drilled deeper. The sand at 5675 which caused a flurry in sales and leases on the east side during April and early in May will be abandoned for the present at least while the drill is sent down to explore formations at a greater depth. Offset in depth due to a crooked hole might put the sand that is now being passed up at a depth of around 5200 feet if the hole had been straight.

With the hole cased with 8 1/2 inch casing to 5600 feet, the Barnsdall can continue the depth for several hundred feet or until a productive oil sand is found. If another sand is found below the present depth it will be of great importance to the entire field here, as there are no wells producing in this field below a depth of 5000 feet.

The Camp Oil company moved 7500 feet of drill pipe to the W. T. Newland well at Quincy and Hampshire Monday. The well there, which is now 4300 feet deep, will be deepened to 8000 feet unless a productive sand is found at a lower depth. Actual deepening of the well will begin as soon as the drill pipe can be inserted in the hole and operations will be continued with three shifts working 24 hours. This test is of equal importance with the Barnsdall.

The Camp well is an east side project and is practically an offset to the Standard-Thompson lease, which has been one of the most consistent and profitable oil producers in the Huntington Beach field. The Camp Oil company's Newland well is less than half a mile distant from the Barnsdall. Both wells are at the edge of the mesa bluff.

The drilling of two deep tests on the east side is of keen interest to east side property owners. Discovery of deep oil in either or both wells would prove up a large area in east side lots. The Camp Oil company is a strongly financed independent company of which C. W. Camp, of Huntington Beach and Long Beach, is president.

Water System At San Juan Finished Soon

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 27.—Work is progressing on the new reservoir located on Mission Hills. A crew under the direction of Fred Stroschein has finished the foundations and cement construction is shortly to start.

The reservoir when completed will have a capacity of approximately 275,000 gallons, and will receive its water supply from a new well recently dug near town, and now pumping an abundance of water. New pipelines are about completed and new meters will soon be installed. Nine fire hydrants have been installed in the town. C. E. Crumrine, superintendent of the Orange County Water Works, District No. 4, announces that he will shortly start signing up water users, and will take out all old meters to make way for the new.

OPERATIONS AT PORT ENTRANCE FINISHED SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, May 27.—According to City Engineer Patterson, the dredging operations at the entrance of the harbor should be completed in a couple of weeks, should good weather and an absence of ground swells be encountered.

The government officials have declared the "Muriel" to be removed, as their inspection showed that the ribs and keel have been dragged out on the beach, following the burning of the topsides, which took place some days ago. Sundry bolts and iron braces left on the bottom are looked on as a nuisance by the owners of the dredge, as they have a habit of breaking the cutters at their intake end of the suction pipe when operations are continued in their vicinity.

The placing of the rocks at No. 2 groin, that nearest the shore, was completed yesterday and the piling for the No. 1 groin is rapidly being replaced.

The failure of the timber work of the groins to withstand the battering of the heavy ground swell of a few weeks ago, cost the contractors about $10,000 loss, including the pile driver, which went into the ocean at the same time.

The scouring action of the waves at that time necessitated the use of about 600 tons of additional rock, which was used to reinforce the curve at the inner end of the west breakwater.

At the present time the sand is being poured some six feet above the street, thus assuring adequate protection from the waves at the shore end.

The dredging channel will be 100 feet to the east of the west breakwater, thus preventing scouring by the tidal current at the base of the rock. It is proposed to continue the channel out to where the water is 20 feet in depth, from which point the bottom drops abruptly.

If roads were built today by the methods used by the Romans they would cost $300,000 per mile instead of $30,000.

GIVES LECTURE AT SESSION OF ANAHEIM GROUP

ANAHEIM, May 27.—The regular monthly meeting of the White Temple Methodist brotherhood, which is an outgrowth of the Men's Open Forum club, was held last night in the social hall of the church with a large attendance.

The outstanding interest of the meeting was centered around the subject, "Religion in the Home," in the form of a lecture by L. P. Nichols with the use of stereopticon views illustrating its history and development. Mr. Nichols mentioned in particular the use of religion in the homes of such notables as Lincoln, Roosevelt and Boverd.

President Paul Demaree presided at the business session, when the organization was completed with a charter membership of 31.

Other officers appointed at a previous meeting are Wilbert Bonney, vice president; Lyman Harpster, secretary; N. R. Phillips, treasurer; L. P. Nichols, chaplain; Percy W. Olds, chorister, and Sam Walker, pianist.

Special music was furnished by Harold Lutes, young cornet artist of Santa Ana, who gave two numbers, "Simple Aveu," by Thome, and Fantasie, "Scenes That Are Brightest," from "Maritana" by Wallace-Round. He was accompanied at the piano by his sister, Miss Jeannette Lutes.

A social entertainment committee appointed last night was Lloyd Puryear, Glenn Mathis and Alfred Bonney.

Delegates named to attend the annual conference to be held at the First Methodist church in Long Beach the last of June were Glenn Mathis, William Wellman and Lyman Harpster.

A dinner was served and community singing led by Percy W. Olds.

EUNICE WOLFE WEDS IN LA HABRA HOME

LA HABRA, May 27.—Miss Eunice Wolfe, daughter of Mrs. Edna Wolfe, became the bride of William Parson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Parson, of East Whittier, at a pretty garden wedding held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother on South Idaho street.

Preceding the ceremony a trio of girl friends of the bride played "At Dawning." Members of the trio were Miss Catherine Walberg, violinist; Miss Helen Enos, violinist; and Miss Dorothea Worsely, cellist.

Little Rachel Wolfe, sister of the bride, served as flower girl. The bride chose a white satin gown of ankle length for the occasion and wore a wreath of orange blossoms on her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, roses and ferns. Her attendants were Miss Elizabeth Bailey, of Fullerton, as bridesmaid, in a gown of pink organdie, and her sister, Mrs. Mary Shoemaker, of Alhambra, as maid of honor. She chose a lavender organdie dress and carried pink and lavender sweetpeas, the same as those carried by Miss Bailey.

Dr. Frank Newlin, of Fullerton Junior college, read the marriage lines. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, James Wolfe, of Ventura. Edson Parson attended his brother as best man.

New March Is Dedicated To C. of C. Head

The new march will be played for the first time in public at the band concert here on the afternoon of May 30. The Huntington Beach band is to be heard in a concert at the beach dance pavilion as a part of the Memorial day program here.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made today according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.—Adv.

H. B. Campaign By Standard Oil Rumored

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 27.—There are rumors in oil circles to the effect that Standard Oil company is planning an active development campaign in Huntington Beach. Such a campaign would be decided upon at the main office of the company in San Francisco or Los Angeles and the information would probably be announced out of the head offices.

The situation here is different from fields that do not affect the progress of a community. Development of this city is closely allied with development of its oil field.

CAPISTRANO BEACH WORK PROGRESSING

CAPISTRANO BEACH, May 27.—Development continues on the beautiful mesa above Capistrano Beach. At the present time a number of new homes are in construction and street work is being done. Curbing and parkways along the streets, made beautiful with flowering shrubs and trees, wide streets, and sidewalks all contribute to making this an attractive community.

At the present time a weekly payroll of more than $5000 is being distributed among the 156 workmen who are engaged on various jobs on the mesa. One of the most attractive places in the community is the park which extends from the top of the palisades down a canon and onto the beach. Here are plants, trees, evergreens, flowering shrubs and vines. H. E. Lyden, superintendent of construction, is directing the work.

A CHANGE NEEDED

It meets with our sincerest approval that some of the ministers of Anaheim had the courage to condemn certain features of their show that is now in progress, and to condemn the management in no uncertain terms.

The ministers condemn the concessions of games of chance because they stimulate gambling; the nearly nude dancing of girls; the opening of the show by the "wet" Mayor of San Francisco, and the general seeking of notoriety through certain brands of publicity. The truth would appear to be that there is mighty little about the show to cause any pride to swell up in the breast of Orange County people. It is largely conducted in its public phases from Los Angeles, with Los Angeles merchants featured in its publicity, and with a program that doesn't even cater to the best in Los Angeles, and to mighty few in Orange County. The only thing that we can see that is fully 100 per cent from and for Orange County is the $3500 that is given by the Board of Supervisors to put it over.

After the general impression being given that there were going to be two girls selected to go East as winners of a swimming race, it was found that it was simply a pre-arranged plan by the management to send East a girl from the office of the Publicity Manager, and another girl from Hollywood. These girls were to appear before Mayor Walker. The theory of the management seemed to be that he probably wouldn't want to see any of the Anaheim girls.

We are afraid that some of Los Angeles' forces are perpetrating something upon Orange county under the guise of an orange show. We are glad to note that there is a rebellion right in the city of Anaheim over it. There must be a change in program, which undoubtedly means a different management entirely, to prevent a general and wholesale repudiation by Orange County of the whole affair.

It is unfortunate when a show, supported as this has been in the past, should be so conducted as to force condemnation from the ministers of its city.

A southern college plans to send its football team by airplane to New York for a game next fall. These boys will be expected to know, of course, all about the "flying tackle."

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION

There is a great deal of hue and cry just now that some of our business difficulties lie in over-production. Ambassador Edge, in speaking before a group of French and American business men yesterday, declared that the excessive increase in production is one of our economic ailments which ought and should be cured. He went on to show that our population increase is represented by the figure 115 as compared with the figure 100 before the Great war. He said on the same basis, wheat stands at 122, sugar at 143 and cotton at 123.

Our old world has grown smaller. With the swift ships, the swifter trains and much more swift airplanes and dirigibles, we are almost brought in such close proximity that we are a mere neighborhood. In speaking of production and consumption, we must include the whole world in our purview, and we can hardly speak of over-production when millions in India are always on the verge of starvation, and millions in China are literally starving to death.

The granaries in America are loaded with wheat which cannot be sold without breaking the market, and so we call it over-production. The starving millions of China and of India can only see under-consumption. A movement was suggested here in the Santa Ana Rotary Club the other day to appeal to our United States Senators to send some of this wheat to China, and to give them credit for its payment until some future date. If the things produced could be properly distributed, there would still be underproduction in the world. Nature has done her best. Man in his planning and system alone has failed.

If you think that people have lost their sense of humor notice the answer you get when you ask anyone to change a $20 bill.

PASTORS ENDORSE GRIFFIN BILL

In a meeting of ministers yesterday in Chicago, a resolution was passed endorsing the Griffin bill. This bill if it becomes a law, would protect people from being denied citizenship, who are unwilling to agree that they will go to war and bear arms under any and every conceivable condition that might arise, where the United States is a party.

Only one minister raised a protest against the adoption of the resolution, and he said he was in favor of such a law, but didn't know the conditions of this particular one.

In several cases recently, applicants have been denied citizenship who were asked if the nation went to war in a cause where they believed the nation was wrong in its attitude, whether they would be willing to bear arms. In one case, the applicant was a woman, and the citizenship was denied because she couldn't give an affirmative statement to the proposition of the judge. In view of the fact that we have a pact with many nations declaring that it is only by peaceful methods that disputes shall be settled, and that war shall be condemned as a method of settling disputes, it seemed that the applicant was in harmony, at least with our own treaties.

We are making a little progress when those representatives of the Prince of Peace who are devoting their lives to the preaching of His doctrines will approve such a measure as this one in Congress.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

The total campaign cost in the primaries in Pennsylvania must have summed up to something over a million and a half or two million dollars. Senator Grundy himself spent $291,000 of his own money, and enough was spent by other people to bring it up to $1,380,000 more. The National Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment contributed $100,000 to the campaign of Francis H. Bollen for United States Senator, who was third in the race. $200,000 was spent for this ticket.

The end is not yet. The Davis-Brown ticket has not yet announced the amount they have spent. The amount that Grundy spent in the campaign exceeds that of Ruth Hanna McCormick by $100,000. The only man who does not seem to have spent a lot of money in the Pennsylvania campaign is former Governor Pinchot, who was the successful candidate for Governor.

They will try to use this as an argument against the primary, saying that a poor man has no chance, but with a "gang" like Pennsylvania's in charge of a convention that might nominate a candidate, neither a poor man nor the people have any chance.

"Strategy in baseball," says John J. McGraw, "will undergo no change this year." Not any more, now that all the holdouts have been signed up.

BRIDGE AND MORE BRIDGE

Eleven women in Denver, wives and mothers all except one, have gone on a "strike." They have left their children and husbands behind them, and gone for a week's vacation. They declared that they are "just tired of it all."

They are tired, they say, of going home and preparing dinner; tired of their bridge parties; weary of their luncheons and other engagements. So their husbands have gone to the club and their children are taken in charge by the nurses. They are spending a week, and the arrangements for their program are, each afternoon bridge parties, and then in the evening some more bridge parties.

We imagine from the class of women described that the children who are left behind will hardly know their mothers are gone. It will be just like other days. Likewise with their husbands. The only difference we can see is with the women themselves. And with them, it is just the same thing over again, only a little more of it. They don't have to break up their party to go home and sleep.

The Ying Kao Case

Oakland Tribune

When Ying Kao, former Chinese vice consul at San Francisco, and his wife, were accused of attempting to smuggle opium into the United States, the story naturally attracted wide attention. Again, when they refused to submit themselves to our law and justice and, instead, returned to China, more notice was given the case.

The other day the Chinese courts had their say on their appeal for a new trial. They decided Ying Kao is to serve six years, instead of seven and must pay a fine of $6000 Mexican. His wife's original sentence of four years stands but her fine is increased from $2500 to $4000.

Though the story is now old this chapter is interesting because of the many easy predictions which were made on this side of the Pacific. There were those who said the Yongs Kaos were going home to be executed and, on the other hand, some declared that, in returning, they would escape a deserved punishment.

Compared to the terms given in this country for similar offenses, Ying Kao and his wife are heavily punished. Nationalists in China have maintained there is no excuse for foreign courts in their country as the Chinese ones were capable of administering justice. The Ying Kao case is cited as proof.

New York Seeks to Cope With Diminishing Residents

San Bernardino Sun
Alarmed at the steady decrease in its resident working population New York, that is the borough of Manhattan, is launching on a quasi-municipal scheme of apartment construction. During the past 15 years Greater New York has grown by leaps and bounds but its heart, Manhattan island, has dwindled in importance from a residential standpoint. The average workingman, particularly the clerk and office worker, has sought his residence farther and farther from his place of employment. The traffic problem created thereby has been vexing technical experts with nothing like a permanent solution in sight.

From a civic standpoint the result has been even more alarming. The boss-ruled districts have become more and more dominant in city politics until many writers seriously doubt if a reform administration can be elected, matter not how undesirable conditions become. More and more New York's working population is compelled to live under a government in whose election it has no voice. Now large construction companies are appealed to and agree to provide a number of large apartments to bring back the worker whose presence is recognized as an asset now that he has gone.

Tourists and Forest Fires

Riverside Daily Press

The openings of the automobile touring season brings Americans once more up against the growing menace of the forest fire; not because the tourist is ever menaced by forest fires, but because he so often starts them.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the forest fires now raging are caused by human carelessness," declares Charles Lathrop Pack, famous president of the American Tree association.

"The touring season is at hand and millions are going into our forests this year. These forests are fast becoming the nation's playground, and the citizen who enjoys them must get the point of view that these forests are his forests and that he must exercise the same care with fire while in them that he does in his own home."

In 1929, 250,000 "foreign" cars carrying nearly a million people visited Montana. If a small percentage of this number is careless with fire, the result cannot be estimated. The terrific drain on our forest resources because of fire must be cut down to the point where lightning alone can be blamed."

If every motorist could take this warning to heart, our summer forest fire bill could be cut down very materially.

CONFESSION

I am told that now kids can have candy. That parents both wise and discreet Always keep a big box of it handy For their hungering offspring to eat. We have learned that a saccharine diet Doesn't lead little children to crime Or cause a digestive disquiet That will certainly kill them in time.

As a child I was strictly forbidden To buy any sweets at the shops; The sugar was carefully hidden And so were the peppermint drops. Ginger-snaps, which were not very happy, I sometimes regarded as boons And I thought that I ought to feel happy If I fed six or seven dried prunes.

But the youngsters today have more freedom; They can dine upon chocolate creams, For the doctors assert that they need 'em And that candy won't give 'em bad dreams. They can eat any sort of confection, Or honey spread over their bread, Without any fear that detection Will get them sent early to bed.

In my youth there was strict prohibition Of sweetmeats and candy and such, Yet I always the family physician Declared I was eating too much. And his guess was a little bit closer Than I dare to admit to myself, For I did little tasks for the grocer, And he paid me in sweets from his shelf.

HARDLY WORTH WHILE

Under the law you can keep jugs and kegs in your house, but they would be rather an empty pleasure.

THE POPULARITY OF SPORT

Uncle Sam and His Nephews

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

At last, the three Federal bills relating to unemployment which were introduced by Senator Wagner of New York more than a year ago have passed the Senate. They are now before the House. At the hearing on these bills, no opposition developed.

This is further evidence that industry has a new relation. Now that it has grown to an interesting age, Uncle Sam has adopted it.

This adoption, however, has unique features. For one thing, Business will not be annoyed by paternalism. Uncle Sam will not function as a back-seat driver. He will not at one time fussily admonish his nephews to put on brakes and at another time, yell at them to "give her the gas."

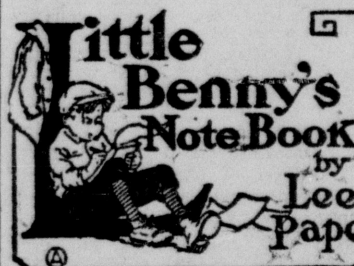

Uncle Sam's guidance will be mainly by acts. If industrial forecasts show a tendency to inflation, he will gently put the brakes on public construction. If deflation is under way, he will promptly "step on it."

Things Uncle Sam will do in his conduct of Everybody's Business. Private Business may or may not follow—as it pleases. There will be no coercion.

A little experimenting, however, will show the most stubbornly individualistic nephew that it is safe to follow his Uncle's lead, based as that will be on wide sources of information not accessible to isolated concerns.

Industry as a whole will find that it is not being robbed of its initiative, but is merely being offered expert guidance from one whose business it is to know and to tell. Then private concerns will be free to devote to research some of the time now given to conjecture. The results of such research will add to the general fund of wisdom on which industry as a whole may draw.

Pop was trying to make his cigar lighter work, and ma sed, Willyum, we must go to a theater some evening in the very near future.

The dooce we must, pop sed, and ma sed, We absolutely must, and I dont just mean a movie, I mean a regular theatrical theater.

But yee gods, the only thing in town is that musical comedy, The Lady in Black, and I understand their charging a thousand dollars a seat, more or less, pop sed, and ma sed, Well, in some cases its cheaper to go to the theater than to stay home, and this is one of them.

How come? pop sed. Do you expect a delegation of bill collectors to ring the bell in our absence? he sed.

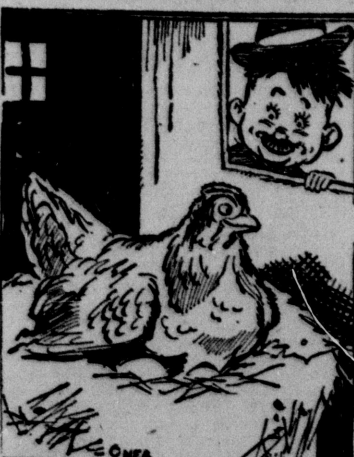

Not at all, ma sed. If we stay home its just a pure case of money going to waist, thats all, she sed.

I have a dim idea that I dont quite follow you, pop sed, and ma sed, Well, its as simple as the first 3 letters of the alphabet. The only place anybody wears a Spanish shawl is to the theater, and here I am like somebody on a desert island with 2 new Spanish shawls costing almost 200 dollars, its ridiculous. Do you mean to say we're going to sit idly home and let the intrist on 200 dollars go to waist? she sed.

Yee gods, if thats not high finance it must be something elts, pop sed, and ma sed, You pride yourself on being a good bizzness man, well then you certeny know that the first essence of good bizzness is to keep money in circulation, and if your going to allow 200 dollars worth of Spanish shawls to languish at home with a strange human eye to gaze on them, I dont call that very good bizzness.

By gollies Im practically sold on the idee, call me up at the office tomorrow and remind me, pop sed, and ma sed, Ill call you up half a dozen times if necessary. Wich she properly will.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

IF YOU WANT GOOD TEACHERS

What's the matter with our colleges and universities?

I talked this evening with a man who thinks he knows.

"The trouble with our universities," he said, "is that our best men are no longer going into teaching. Our faculties are mostly made up of mediocre men trying to act like masters."

Well, anyone who has the responsibility for recruiting a faculty will hardly contend that the supply of great teachers is very plentiful. But frankly I do not blame brilliant young men for making a detour around the teaching profession.

If we were a really wise people we could and would change things in a manner that would attract our best young men to the teaching profession.

If, for instance, we did the following three things, I think the character of our teacher supply would change in a remarkably short time:

First, we should pay to our teachers salaries big enough to insure to them and to their families adequate comfort and freedom from financial worry.

We do not do this now, and the result is that our teachers have to dissipate nervous energy that they should be putting into their teaching and into preparation for their teaching in all sorts of enterprises that promise to turn into the family bank account a few added dollars. They have to turn out hack text books that the world would be better off without. They have to teach in summer schools when they should be storing up energy in woods or on fishing streams.

Second, we should promote teachers to high rank as soon as they demonstrate sound teaching ability. In most of our universities we grind the life out of a man before we give him a full professorship. Some day we shall reward men earlier. We shall get the best out of them while they are still in the flowering time of their initiative.

Third, we should exalt the teacher above everybody else in our universities. Today we reward almost everything else better and more quickly than we reward teaching. The teacher who squanders half his time hustling about from this committee to that gets the plums before the man who devotes all his energies to his main job even gets under the tree. Some day we will be sensible enough to know that administrative work in a university is kitchen maid work, that the big job is teaching, and we shall so reward it, and when we do we may have great teachers.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

A BRIEF AUTHORITY

Just a few years and it is over, this brief authority we hold over our children. So swiftly they pass that there seems but a day between the shorts and the striped trousers of the bridegroom, between the blue rompers and the long white gown of the bride. So brief a time before we must render account of this authority to those upon whom we exercised it.

"I got away from home as soon as I could because I never had a moment of liberty. If mother wasn't bossing me, father was. I had no chance. Maybe it might have been wiser to wait a few years, but with home as it was, I thought I'd rather take the risk." That is a sad arraignment of authority.

"School? I left school as soon as ever I could and went to work. I had a teacher who nagged us from morning to night. The principal always said the teacher was right, no matter how wrong she was. I know I gave them some trouble but nothing to make them want to drive me out. That's what they seemed to want. Nothing I ever did was right. I was forever breaking their rules and forever in trouble. I had to get out."

It is a terrible thing to drive a child out of school. School ought to be a place of adjustment. Any normal-minded child can find a place in school provided the teacher puts affection and understanding in the place of authority. "Because I want to help you," will do what "because I have authority over you," never can do. We are made that way and teachers above all people should know what children are made of and how to direct them to better ways.

Laws are poor enough forces for aiding a child to righteous living. They are always the last resort of intelligent people. They should be the very, very last resource of parents and teachers. Take for granted that the children want to be right and to do right. You may do so safely, for rightness is the basic law of spiritual growth. All humanity tends toward rightness. Then study your child and find just how far along the road to rightness he has traveled. Some go farther and faster than others. You must place each as he travels and be ready to go along with him in that place where you find him. It is impossible to help him where he is not, isn't it?

So place yourself by his side, without making any remarks about his delaying, his slowness, his poverty-stricken equipment. Stride along by his side and lead him, not by authority, but by understanding and affection. Like him. Want to help him. Forget about your certificates and degrees, your place in society and your duty to convention and law and order. Your first duty is to this child who needs you. Let authority sit in the courts where no child ever should be, never would be, if we understood our duty better.

There is a word above authority and that is LOVE.

JULIA WARD HOWE'S BIRTH

On May, 27, 1819, Julia Ward Howe, American author and reformer noted for her Civil War poem, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," was born in New York City.

Although the poem made her famous and won for her the honor of being the only woman elected to the American Academy of Arts and Letters, Mrs. Howe was one of the most active and versatile personalities of her day. She advocated prohibition, preached occasionally from Unitarian pulpits, was one of the organizers of the American Woman Suffrage Association and was a zealous worker for prison reform, for world peace and other humanitarian movements.

Mrs. Howe wrote the "Battle Hymn" at the request of James Freeman Clarke, who went with her and others to visit an army post near Washington. She heard soldiers singing "John Brown's Body" as they returned from skirmish and while the wounded were being carried to their palisades, she was inspired to write her poem.
